INTRODUCTION

By Prof. John R. Sampey, D.D., LL.D.

Prof. Kyle M. Yates has been for several years a successful teacher of Hebrew in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. I have had occasion to test his work with several large classes, and have noted with satisfaction, the enthusiasm with which they continue their studies. In the hands of Prof. Yates the study of Hebrew becomes intensely interesting. His students forget the drudgery of learning a new language under the spell of the teacher's interest in his subject and his pupils.

One explanation of the enthusiasm on the part of the students is the fact that the teacher imposes on them no task that is not essential in the acquisition of a working knowledge of Biblical Hebrew. He requires a minimum of work for a maximum of success in the acquisition of the language. His central aim is to prepare the students for intelligent reading of the Hebrew Bible. He omits everything which does not lend itself directly to this end. Scholars who are fond of the comparative method in language study are tempted to embody in their grammars much material of interest in linguistics but not essential to the practical aim of preparing the pupil to read intelligently the Hebrew Old Testament.

Dr. Yates might easily have doubled the size of his book by incorporating elaborate paradigms and extended exercises. The student who wishes to continue the study of Hebrew would need to add a larger grammar such as Gesenius-Kautzsch and a modern lexicon such as that by Brown, Briggs and Driver.

The "Beginner's Grammar of the Hebrew Old Testament" is best suited for use by a capable teacher in the classroom. Had the author been thinking primarily of pupils who might wish to take up the study of the language without the aid of the living teacher, he no doubt would have made quite a different book.

PREFACE

In this small volume the attempt has been made to introduce the student to the elements of Biblical Hebrew. It is essentially a beginner's grammar. Many things, ordinarily treated in introductory books, have been omitted or treated very briefly.

The author has been using this material for the past few years in classes of beginners. These classes have numbered between eighty and one hundred and ten men, and it has been demonstrated that, even with this large group, it is possible to lead men to read and appreciate the Old Testament in the original language. The needs of a beginner's class in Hebrew have determined the method and order of presentation. The sentences in the exercises are composed of words found in the Old Testament—many of them being quotations—but in most instances they have been framed with the double object of using none but the commonest words, and of illustrating the various grammatical points in the shortest possible space.

The author wishes to record his great indebtedness to his teacher, Professor John R. Sampey, D.D., LL.D., for instruction, for valuable assistance in the actual production, and for his encouragement through it all. Many Hebrew Grammars have been consulted and freely used in the course of these years of the preparation of this book. Dr. W. R. Harper's books, Dr. A. B. Davidson's, Gesenius-Kautzsch, and many others have made their contribution.

In conclusion, the author wishes to express his thanks to his colleague, Professor W. Hersey Davis, M.A., Th.D., and to Rev. J. B. Weatherspoon, D.D., Th.D., for valuable criticism of the book in manuscript; to Professor N. H. Parker, B.A., Th.M., of Toronto, for suggestions as to methods, and to many other friends who have willingly helped in a number of ways.

BEGINNER'S GRAMMAR OF THE HEBREW OLD TESTAMENT

LESSON I.

1. The Alphabet

Form	Final form	Name	Pronounced as	Represented in transliteration by
א		'Ālĕph	(Soft breathing)	'
ב		Bêth	b in boy	b
ג		Gîmĕl	g in go	g
ד		Dālĕth	d in day	d
ה		Hê	h in hat	h
ו		Wāw	w in way	w
ז		Zăyĭn	z in zeal	z
ח		Hêth	ch in loch	ḥ
ט		Têth	t in toy	ṭ
י		Yôdh	y in yet	y
כ	ך	Kăph	k in keep	k
ל		Lāmĕdh	l in let	l
מ	ם	Mêm	m in man	m
נ	ן	Nûn	n in now	n
ס		Sāmĕkh	s in sin	ṣ
ע		'Ăyĭn	(rough breathing)	'
פ	ף	Pê	p in pin	p
צ	ץ	Çādhé	ss in hiss (ts in hits)	ç
ק		Ǫôph	q in quire	q
ר		Rêsh	r in run	r
שׂ		Sîn	s in so	s
שׁ		Shîn	sh in shell	š
ת		Tāw	t in to	t

2. Notes

1. Hebrew has twenty-two letters, all of which are consonants.

2. These characters are always written separately and from right to left.

3. There are no special forms for capital letters.

4. Care must be taken to distinguish certain letters similar in form.

Examine the following closely and practice making them, noting the characteristic differences.

ב (Bêth),	כ (Kăph)	פ (Pê)
ג (Gîmĕl)	נ (Nûn)
ד (Dālĕth)	ר (Rêsh)	ך (final Kăph)	ף (final Pê)
ה (Hê)	ח Hêth)	ת (Tāw)
ו (Wāw)	ז (Zăyĭn)	ן (final Nûn)
ט (Têth)	מ (Mêm)
ס (Sāmĕkh)	ם (final Mêm)
ע (ʻĂyĭn)	צ (Çādhé)	ץ (final Çādhé)
שׁ (Shîn)	שׂ (Sîn)

5. Six letters (ב ג ד כ פ ת) have two sounds: When written with a dot (called dāgheš-lêne) in the bosom, they have a hard pronunciation; when the dot is absent, the sound is soft.

Hard		Soft
בּ	b	ב	bh or v
גּ	g (gas)	ג	gh, or g as in tage
דּ	d	ד	dh, or th in this
כּ	k	כ	kh
פּ	p	פ	ph or f
תּ	t	ת	th, as in think

6. Five letters have two forms. The regular form is found always except at the end of a word.

Regular		Final (last consonant of a word)
Kăph	כ	ך
Mêm	מ	ם
Nûn	נ	ן
Pê	פ	ף
Çādhé	צ	ץ

7. Other letters.

(1) א ('Ālĕph) has no sound. (Do not confuse with the English "A"). It is a scarcely audible breathing from the lungs, the Spiritus lenis of the Greek.

(2) ע ('Ăyĭn) is a guttural consonant pronounced with a slight movement of the uvula. It is represented in transliteration by the rough breathing (Spiritus asper).

3. Exercises

1. Practice writing these letters until it can be done rapidly and accurately.

2. Learn the name and the pronunciation so that they may be named and pronounced even though arranged promiscuously.

3. Write in Hebrew characters the following:

Srh, dvr, drk, mym, qdš, rgl, šmr, mqwm, trgwm, smlh, 'zn, 'šr, pym, šlm, glwy.

LESSON II.

4. Table of Vowel Signs with Names and Pronunciation

1. Naturally long vowels

Class	Sign	Name	Sounded as		Illustration
I	◌ָ	Qāmĕç	â	in father	שָׁת (šâth)
	◌ֵי	Seghôl Yôdh	é	in there	פָּנֶיךָ (pānékā)
II	◌ִי	Ḥîrĕq Yôdh	î	in machine	טִיל (ṭîl)
	◌ֵי	Çērê Yôdh	ê	in they	בֵּין (bên)
III	◌ֹ	Ḥôlĕm	ô	in cold	קוֹל (qôl)
	◌ֻ	Šûrĕq	û	in true	קוּם (qûm)

2. Tone long vowels.

Class	Sign	Name	Sounded as		Illustration
I	◌ָ	Qāmĕç	ā	in father	יָד (yādh)
	◌ֶ	Seghôl	é	in there	זֶרַע (zéră')
II	◌ֵ	Çērê	ē	in they	שֵׁם (šēm)
III	◌ֹ	Ḥôlĕm	ō	in roll	כֹּל (kōl)

3. Short Vowels

Class	Sign	Name	Sounded as		Illustration
I	◌ַ	Păthăḥ	ă	in hat	עַם ('ăm)
II	◌ֶ	Seghôl	ĕ	in met	אֶל- ('ĕl)
	◌ִ	Ḥîrĕq	ĭ	in pit	הִק (hĭq)
III	◌ָ	Qāmĕç Hāṭûph	ŏ	in not	כָּל (kŏl)
	◌ֻ	Qĭbbûç	ŭ	in put	הָק (hŭq)

4. Half Vowels

In addition to the short vowels already mentioned, there are certain indistinct sounds called half-vowels. The shortest and most indistinct sound is called Simple Šᵉwa. It is written ◌ְ, דְבַר dᵉvăr. There are three other half-vowels called Compound Šᵉwas (or Hateph Šᵉwas). It will be seen from the following table that they are a combination of Simple Šᵉwa with the three short vowels to indicate that they are to be sounded as half a, e, or o.

◌ֲ Hātĕph Păthăḥ	Very short a sound	חֲמוֹר	(ḥᵃmôr)
◌ֱ Hātĕph Sᵉghôl	Very short e sound	אֱלֹהִים	(ʾᵉlôhîm)
◌ֳ Hātĕph Qāmĕç	Very short o sound	חֳלִי	(ḥᵒlî)

5. Notes

1. Ancient Hebrew had no system of vowel notation. Only consonants were written. The reader was left to supply the vowels for himself. In cases where doubt might arise some indication was given by writing the most closely allied consonantal sounds. (א and ה to denote a, י to denote i or e, ו to denote o or u.)

2. After Hebrew had ceased to be a living speech a system of vocalization was invented and elaborated to preserve the proper pronunciation and meaning of the Sacred Writings.

3. Modern Hebrew Bibles follow the Palestinian system, which employs points and signs above, below, and in the bosom of the consonantal letters. As a rule the sign for the vowel is written under the consonant after which the vowel is to be pronounced. (בָּ bā, בֶּל bĕl, בִּל bĭl). Hôlĕm (◌ֹ) is placed over the consonant (slightly to the left) after which it is to be pronounced. (בֹ bō, בֹל bōl).

Šûrĕq and Hôlĕm when written fully use the letter Waw and the point is placed over it for Hôlĕm and in the bosom for Šûrĕq. (קוֹל qôl, קוּם qûm).

4. Vowel sounds are the same as in English, a, e, i, o, u, in their various shades. Hebrew divides them into three classes according to their organic formation.

A-class, including the a-vowels and those derived from them.

I-class, including the i-vowels and those derived from them.

U-class, including the u-vowels and those derived from them.

6. Exercises

1. Practice writing the vowel signs until they can be written, pronounced, and named without difficulty.

2. Transliterate the following consonants and vowel signs:

דַל, כָּל, כֶּל, רָב, שָׁת, לֵץ, אֵם, שִׂים, בֵּית, עוֹד, חֵל, שֹׁמֵר, מָה, פֶּה, שָׁנֵא, עָמֹד, אֱמֹר, דֶּרֶךְ, אֲרִי, לְךָ.

3. Write the Hebrew consonants and vowel signs for the following:

LESSON III.

The Vowels (Cont'd)

7. Condensed Table of Vowel Signs

Class	Naturally long		Tone long	Short		Half vowels
	Pure	Diphthongal		Pure	Deflected
A	◌ָ â, ◌ָ é	(j)	◌ָ ā, ◌ָ é	◌ַ ă		◌ְ e ◌ָ a
I	◌ִ י	◌ִ י - ê	◌ֵ ē	◌ִ י	◌ֶ ĕ	◌ְ e ◌ֵ e
	◌ֻ û	◌ֹ ô	◌ֹ ō	◌ֻ ŭ	◌ָ ŏ	◌ְ e ◌ֹ o

8. Quality of Vowels:

I. Naturally long. They are unchangeable. They are usually the result of contractions. כָּתָב.

II. Tone long. They are long only by virtue of relation to the accent of the word and they may be reduced. They occur

a) In an open syllable before the accent. קָטַל

b) In a closed syllable under the accent. אָדָם

III. Short. They depend largely upon the tone according to rules which vary a little between nouns and verbs. They are unchangeable only when they stand in a closed syllable. קָטַל

IV. Indistinct or half vowels. They are the result, usually, of reduced tone long vowels. They may be heightened (i. e. changed from short to long) by the shifting of the tone. לְךָ

Note: A vowel may be heightened or reduced only in the scale provided by its class. Thus a class "A" vowel cannot be heightened to a class U vowel. If heightened, it must be changed within its own class. Vowel changes other than simple heightening or reducing are quite complex and must be taken up later.

9. Notes on the Vowel Signs

1. It is to be observed that certain vowels are written alike (◌ָ ā and ◌ָ ŏ, ◌ֵ é, ◌ֶ ĕ). Only the rules of syllable and tone (accent) can determine the correct reading. The beginner must be content to wait until the laws of the syllable and the tone are given.

2. Any changeable vowel may be reduced to vocal šᵉwa. (This is called volatilization).

3. Any short vowel may be heightened.

◌ַ ă to ◌ָ ā, ◌ִ ĭ to ◌ֵ ē, ◌ֻ ŭ to ◌ֹ ō.

4. The compound šᵉwas are used only in connection with the gutturals (laryngeals). See par. 16 for explanation.

5. Naturally long vowels may be written "defectively." When written without the vowel letter they are said to be written "defectively." Holem (וֹ) may be written ◌ֹ as in קֹלֹת. The defective writing is preferred when the word contains another vocal וּ or יִ.

10. Exercises

1. Pronounce and transliterate the following sentences:

בְּרֵאשִׁית בָּרָא אֱלֹהִים אֵת הַשָּׁמַיִם וְאֵת הָאָרֶץ׃

וַיֹּאמֶר אֱלֹהִים יְהִי אוֹר וַיְהִי אוֹר׃

2. Transliterate into pointed Hebrew: Bĭnyāmîn, Šāmărt, Mōšéh, Gōšĕn, Ḥānûn, Hŭldāh, 'îš, dāvār, šāmă', šāmāyĭm, bāṭăḥ, qôl, 'îr, yélĕdh.

LESSON IV.

11. The Syllable and the Tone

11. A syllable is composed of one or more consonants and one full vowel. Two full vowels, unless one of the vowels be inserted to assist in pronouncing a guttural, cannot stand in the same syllable. A half-vowel is not sufficient to make a syllable but may stand with a full vowel in its syllable. Thus קָ־טַל is composed of two syllables. The first (קָ) has one consonant and one vowel. The second (טַל) has two consonants and one vowel. In בְּרִית (b^{e}rîth) there is only one syllable, for there is but one full vowel. Syllables always begin with a consonant.

N. B. There is one exception. Before š^{e}wa and labial consonants the conjunction וְ is written וּ, and this vowel makes a syllable.

12. Kinds of Syllables

1. Open, ending in a vowel. בּוֹ bô, לָ lā, רָ rā.

2. Closed, ending in a consonant. טַל tăl, קוֹל qôl.

3. Sharpened, ending in a consonant which is doubled. קִטֵּל qĭṭ-ṭēl (first syllable).

Note. When a consonant would be repeated (as קִטְטֵל) instead of writing both of them, one is usually omitted and a point called dageš-forte is placed in the bosom of the one that remains. קִטֵּל qĭṭ-ṭēl.

4. Half open. An unaccented open syllable with a short vowel is usually called half-open. קִטְלוּ qĭ-ṭ^{e}lû.

13. Vowel of the Syllable

1. An open syllable has a long vowel, unless accented. It may then be short. קָ־טַל qā-tăl. (First syllable open and the vowel is long).

2. A closed syllable has a short vowel, unless accented. It may then be long. יִ־קְ־טֹל yĭq-tōl. (First syllable closed and the vowel is short. The second syllable closed, but it has the accent and the vowel is long).

3. A sharpened syllable has a short vowel, unless accented. הַ־קּוֹל hăq-qôl (first syllable).

4. A half-open syllable always has a short vowel. הַ־חֹשֶׁךְ hă-ḥōšĕk (first syllable).

14. Vocabulary

1. אָב ʾāv father
2. אָח ʾāḥ brother
3. אֵם ʾēm (f.) mother
4. בֵּן bēn son
5. טוֹב ṭôv good
6. יוֹם yôm day
7. עִיר ʿîr (f.) city
8. קוֹל qôl voice
9. שֵׁם šēm name
10. שָׁנָה šānā(h) (f.) year

15. Exercises

1. Pronounce, transliterate and divide into syllables the following words, indicating the kind in each instance.

לוֹ, אַתָּם, דִּבַּרְתָּ, מַיִם, אָדָם, אֲשֶׁר, בְּרִית. אֱלֹהִים, הַחֹשֶׁךְ, וּבֵן, הַבֵּן, שָׁנָה, עִיר, טוֹב, הַטּוֹב:

2. Write into pointed Hebrew.

Wăy-yăr ʾᵉlôhîm ʾĕth kŏl ʾᵃšĕr ʿā-šā(h) wᵉhĭn-nē(h) ṭôv mᵉʿôdh wă-yᵉhî ʿé-rĕv wă-yᵉhî vō-qĕr yôm hăš-šĭš-šî.

LESSON V.

The Gutturals, Daghěš, Metheg, Maqqeph, Accents, etc.

Before going further it seems desirable to take up the consideration of several matters which are not closely related but are needed by the student in his early study of the language.

16. The Gutturals or laryngeals. The letters א, ה, ח, ע, (and for some purposes ר) are called gutturals. א and ה are usually gutturals only at the beginning of a syllable. ה is a guttural at the end of a syllable within a word; but not at the end of a word unless it bears Mappiq. (See 20.) Some peculiarities:

a) They refuse to be doubled. In the rejection of dagheš-forte it becomes necessary for the preceding vowel to be heightened, ◌ַ to ◌ָ, ◌ִ to ◌ֵ, ◌ֻ to ◌ֹ. ה and ח are so strong in sound as not to require the heightened vowel.

b) They prefer compound šᵉwa under them rather than simple šᵉwa. (Usually ◌ֲ, but may be ◌ֱ, especially with א.)

c) They have a decided preference for the A-class vowels before them.

17. Dagheš-lene. The six letters (בגדכפת) receive a dot called dagheš-lene when they do not immediately follow a vowel sound. It serves to harden the pronunciation as explained in 2.5.

18. Dagheš-forte. Any letter, except ר and the gutturals, may receive in its bosom a point called dagheš-forte, indicating that it is doubled. It is always preceded by a vowel sound.

הַמַּיִם (hăm-mă-yĭm). הַקּוֹל (hăqqôl).

19. Maqqeph (binder) is a horizontal line like the English hyphen used to join words which are to be connected in thought or utterance. The words become one and the accent is on the last word. אֶת־כָּל־אֲשֶׁר־לוֹ.

20. Mappiq is a point placed in a final ה to indicate that it is to be treated as a consonant, and not as a vowel letter. עִמָּהּ ʿĭm-māh.

21. The syllable-divider (quiescent or silent šᵉwa) marks the division between two syllables in a word. יִקְטֹל yĭq-tōl. The sign under the second letter is not to be pronounced. A šᵉwa coming at the end of a syllable or immediately before another šᵉwa is always quiescent and may be called a syllable-divider. It is found in final Kaph (חָשָׂךְ) except when it has a full vowel in it, לָךְ.

22. The accents. In the Hebrew text there is a large number of marks in addition to the regular vowel points. They are marks of accentuation and are placed above, below or between the consonants. They are used: (a) to mark the tone syllable of the word; (b) as punctuation marks; (c) as musical notations. There are about thirty different marks used and, of course, it will be impossible to treat them adequately within the compass of a brief grammar for beginners. Only the essential things will be considered.

The main accent or tone falls generally upon the last syllable of the word. מָ־שַׁל mā-šăl. In the segholate nouns (מֶלֶךְ) and some few verbal forms (מָשַׁלְתִּי māšăltî) it falls on the penult. The svllable which bears the main accent is known as the tone syllable, and the syllable before it as the pretone. In this grammar words which are accented on the last syllable are not marked; those accented on the penult have ـ under the accented syllable to call special attention to the accentuation.

Metheg (a bridle) is a secondary accent or countertone used to check the onward rush of the voice toward the tone syllable. The natural position of the countertone is on the second and fourth syllables before the tone. הַכּוֹכָבִים. It will be seen from the above illustration that the sign for this secondary accent (metheg) is a small perpendicular stroke under the syllable to be accented. הָאָדָם. This sign is used:

(1) Usually on the second open syllable before the tone. הָאָדָם, הָאַרְבָּעִים

(2) With all vowels before compound šᵉwa. וְאָנִי

(3) With all vowels before vocal šᵉwa pretonic. קָטְלָה

(4) With a long vowel in a closed syllable before Maqqeph. שָׁם־הַנָּהָר

Pause. In a Hebrew verse there are two natural pauses. The accents Silluq (֑) and 'Athnah (֔) mark these pause syllables. Silluq occurs on the last tone syllable and 'Athnah on the principal syllable within the verse. They are the two great pauses, and a syllable accented with either of them is said to be in pause. They form the two main pillars of the verse, e. g., בָּרָא . . . . הָאָרֶץ . . . . . .

The vowel of a syllable in pause is usually long. מַיִם (măyĭm) in pause becomes מָיִם (māyĭm).

23. Vocabulary

1. אָדָם 'Ā-dhām man
2. אִישׁ 'îš man
3. אִשָּׁה 'iššā(h) (f.) woman
4. בַּת băth (f.) daughter
5. גָּדוֹל gā-dhôl great
6. יָד yādh (f.) hand
7. לֵב (lēv) heart
8. סוּס sûs horse
9. עֵץ 'ēç tree
10. תּוֹרָה tô-rā(h) (f.) law

LESSON VI.

24. The Article

1. Hebrew has no indefinite article. Indefiniteness is generally indicated by the absence of the article. קוֹל (qôl) a voice.

2. The definite article is always a prefix. It is joined to the word so closely as to make one word in writing and pronunciation.

3. It suffers no change for gender or number.

25. Table for Writing

Before ה ח	הַ	הַחֹשֶׁךְ	hă-ḥōšĕk—the darkness.
Before א, ר (ע generally)	הָ	הָעֵץ	hā-'ēç—the tree.
Before חָ and unaccented הָ and עָ	הָ הָ הָ	הָחָג	hé-hāg—the festival.

26. Notes

(1) The usual way of writing the article is to prefix הַ to the substantive and put dagheš-forte in the first consonant. הַקּוֹל hăq-qôl.

(2) Gutturals (א, ה, ח, ע) and ר refuse the dagheš-forte and hence the vowel changes noted above.

(3) ה and ח while refusing the doubling allow the vowel to remain short before them. הַהִיא hă-hî'.

(4) א (and ע usually) demand a long vowel in the open syllable before them and the ־ is heightened to ־ (ă to ā). הָעֵץ (hā-ēç) the tree.

(5) אֶרֶץ érĕç (earth) with the article becomes הָאָרֶץ hā-ārĕç. עַם ăm (people) becomes הָעָם hā-'ām. הַר hăr (mountain) becomes הָהָר hā-hār.

(6) When the inseparable prepositions לְ, כְ, בְ precede the article the ה is elided and the consonant of the preposition takes the vowel of the article. בַּשֵּׁם (băš-šēm) for בְּהַשֵּׁם (in the name).

27. Vocabulary

1. אֱלֹהִים 'ĕlô-hîm God
2. אֵל 'ēl God
3. דָּבָר dā-vār word
4. מָקוֹם mā-qôm (f) place
5. נָבִיא nā-vî' prophet
6. עַם ăm people
7. רֹאשׁ rô'š head
8. שִׁיר šîr song
9. שָׁלוֹם šā-lôm peace
10. שַׂר săr prince

28. Exercises

Prefix the article with the proper pointing to the following words:

סוּס, רֹאשׁ, שָׁלוֹם, מָקוֹם, אֵל, דָּבָר, בַּת, עֵץ, לֵב, חֶשֶׁךְ, חֶרֶב, הֵיכָל, עָנָן:

Write in Hebrew:

The father, the man, the prince, the law, the day, the head, the name, the prophet, the city, the voice, the son, the peace, the earth, the mountain, the people, the mother.

LESSON VII.

29. The Conjunction

The conjunction is וְ (Waw), an inseparable prefix. It is written as follows:

1. Usually וְ וְשֵׁם (w^{e}šēm) and name.

2. Before פ, מ, ב and consonants with a simple š^{e}wa וְ, as וּבֵן (û-vēn) and son.

3. Sometimes before a tone syllable וָ, as וָרָע (wā-rā') and evil.

4. Before compound š^{e}wa it takes the corresponding short vowel וַאֲנִי (wă-^{a}nî) and I.

Note. Before yodh with simple š^{e}wa it is pointed with ḥireq וְיִהְיִי (wî-hî) instead of וְיִהְיִי and it shall be.

30. The Adjective

The adjective may be used attributively or predicatively.

1. When it qualifies a substantive it stands after the substantive and agrees in gender, number and definiteness. שֵׁם טוֹב šēm ṭôv a good name. הַשֵּׁם הַטּוֹב hăš-šēm hăṭ-ṭôv the good name (the name, the good).

הַקּוֹל הַטּוֹב וְהַגָּדוֹל hăq-qôl hăṭ-ṭôv w^{e}hăg-gā-dhôl (the voice, the good and the great) the good and great voice.

2. The predicative adjective agrees with the substantive in gender and number but it never takes the article. It usually stands before the substantive but may follow it.

טוֹב הַקּוֹל or הַקּוֹל טוֹב the voice is good.

31. Vocabulary

1. אָדוֹן 'ādhôn master, lord
2. בֹּקֶר bō-qĕr morning
3. בְּרִית b^{e}rîth (f) covenant
4. גִּבּוֹר gĭb-bôr hero
5. יהוה Jehovah
6. יֶלֶד yĕ-lédh child
7. חֶרֶב ḥé-rĕv (f) sword
8. פָּנִים pā-nîm faces
9. קָדוֹשׁ qā-dôsh holy
10. תָּמִים tā-mîm perfect

Note. The original pronunciation of יהוה was probably יַהְוֶה yăhwé.

32. Exercises

Pronounce, translate, and transliterate

אֵם וָאָב, הַבֵּן הַטּוֹב וְהַבַּת: טוֹב הַיֶּלֶד: הַיֶּלֶד הַטּוֹב: קָדוֹשׁ יהוה: תָּמִים הַבֹּקֶר: הַחֶרֶב טוֹבָה:

Translate into Hebrew:

The man and the woman, a great day, the good father, mother and son, the holy day. The tree is large.

LESSON VIII.

33. Personal Pronouns

The personal pronouns in Hebrew occur as separate forms and in abbreviated forms. The former are distinct words and are used only to express the Nominative case. They are unchangeable and indeclinable. (They are coupled only with וְ and הֲ interrogative).

The latter are mere fragments of pronouns attached to other words or particles to represent the oblique cases. These fragments, called pronominal suffixes, will be explained later.

The following are the full forms of the pronouns.

1. c.	אֲנִי 'anî אָנֹכִי 'ānōkî	I	אֲנַחְנוּ 'a năḥ-nû נַחְנוּ năḥ-nû	we
2. m.	אַתָּה 'ăttā(h)	thou	אַתֶּם 'ăttĕm	ye
2. f.	אַתְּ 'ătt		אַתֵּנָה ăttēnnā(h)
3. m.	הוּא hû'	he	הֵם, הֵמָּה hēm, hēmmā(h)	they
3. f.	הִיא hî'	she	הֵנָּה (הֵן) hēnnā(h) (hēn)

34. Demonstrative Pronouns

	Singular		Plural
this	m. זֶה zé(h) f. זֹאת zôth	these	c. אֵלֶּה 'ēllĕ(h)
that	m. הוּא hû' f. הִיא hî'	those	m. (הֵם) הֵמָּה hēmmā(h) (hēm) f. (הֵן) הֵנָּה hēnnā(h) (hēn)

Notes:

These pronouns conform to the same rules as the adjective with regard to the article; i. e., they take the article when qualifying but not when predicative.

הָאִישׁ הַזֶּה	this man.

35. Relative Pronouns

There is only one relative pronoun, אֲשֶׁר ('ašĕr) who, which, what.

It is invariable for all genders, numbers, and cases.

NOTE. שֶׁ or שַׁ followed by a dagheš-forte is occasionally found for אֲשֶׁר, especially in later Hebrew.

36. INTERROGATIVE PRONOUNS

מִי (mî) who, refers to persons. מִי אַתָּה who art thou?

מָה (mā(h)) what, refers to things. מַה־הִיא what is that?

The pointing of מָה varies according to the consonant which follows it.

מַה followed by dagheš-forte—

usually—	מַה־לְּךָ what to thee?
מַה before ה and ח	מַה־הִיא what is that?
מָה before א, ע and ר	מָה־אֵלֶּה what are these?
מָה before gutturals with ā	מָה־עָשִׂיתִי what have I done?

NOTE. אַי (where) plus the demonstrative (אַי־זֶה) may be used as an interrogative. אַי־זֶה דַּרְכְּךָ which way?

37. VOCABULARY

The pronouns given above.

38. EXERCISES

Translate, pronounce, and transliterate.

מִי אֲנֹכִי: זֶה הַדָּבָר: הַדָּבָר הַזֶּה: מַה־הִיא: הָאִישׁ אֲשֶׁר הָאָב: הַסּוּס הָהוּא: הוּא הַסּוּס הַטּוֹב:

Translate:

This great day. This is a good child. I am a king. Who is he? What is that name? These faces. Thou (art) the man.

LESSON IX.

39. The Inseparable Prepositions

בְּ in, by, with

כְּ as, like, according to

לְ to, for, at

These prepositions are always prefixes. They are pointed as follows.

1. Usually with simple šᵉwa	בְּ,כְּ,לְ	בְּשֵׁם	in a name
2. Before the tone-syllable with qameç	בָּ,כָּ,לָ	לָעַד	to eternity
3. Before another šᵉwa with ḥireq	בִּ,כִּ,לִ	בִּדְבַר	by the word of
4. Before compound šᵉwa with corresponding short vowel	כַּ,כָּ,כָ	כַּאֲשֶׁר	like as
5. Before the article with the vowel of the article (the ה is elided)	בַּ,בָּ,בָ	בַּיּוֹם	in the day

40. The Preposition מִן from

It may be separable or inseparable. It is pointed as follows.

1. Before the article usually	מִן	מִן־הַקּוֹל	from the voice
2. Before non-gutturals with the Nun assimilated	מִ	מִקּוֹל	from voice
3. Before ר, ע, א usually	מַ	מֵאִישׁ	from man
4. Before ה and ח usually	מְ	מְחוּץ	from abroad (outside)

41. Vocabulary

1. גָּדַל gā-dhăl he was great
2. דָּבַר dā-văr he spoke
3. כָּרַת kā-răth he cut
4. כָּתַב kā-thăv he wrote

5. לָבַשׁ lā-văš he put on
6. מָלַךְ mā-lăkh he reigned
7. מָשַׁל mā-šăl he ruled
8. נָתַן nā-thăn he gave
9. פָּקַד pā-qădh he visited
10. שָׁמַר šā-măr he kept

42. Exercises

Pronounce, translate, and transliterate.

מִבֹּקֶר, כַּדָּבָר, כְּדָבָר, מֵאִישׁ: יהוה בַּמָּקוֹם הַזֶּה: בַּיּוֹם הַזֶּה: כָּתַב לַבֵּן וְלַבַּת: מָשַׁל בָּעִיר: מֵרֹאשׁ לְיָד:

Write in Hebrew:

To the day, in the name, to a man, from the father, to the son, and in that day. God gave the woman to the man. He spoke to the child. According to the word. He ruled in the city. The man kept the law.

LESSON X.

43. The Verb

Hebrew has no "tenses" in the English sense of the word. There are no special forms to express the time of action (past, present, future). Instead of this the action is represented as being completed or incomplete, finished or unfinished. Hence we have the two "states" or "tenses", Perfect and Imperfect.

The Perfect may be used in the past, present, or future. The question for consideration is not the time, but whether or not the action is considered as complete or incomplete.

Perfect—He killed, he has or had killed, he will have killed.

Imperfect—He was killing, he will kill, he is killing, (rare).

There are many formations and modifications of the root idea which will be taken up later. Below we shall give the Perfect tense of the simple verb stem. It is made up of a verbal root with fragments of personal pronouns attached as suffixes.

Singular

3 m.	קָטַל	qā-ṭăl	he killed
3 f.	קָטְלָה	qā-ṭᵉlā(h)	she killed
2 m.	קָטַלְתָּ	qā-ṭăl-tā	thou didst kill
2 f.	קָטַלְתְּ	qā-ṭălt	thou didst kill
1 c.	קָטַלְתִּי	qā-tăl-tî	I killed

Plural

3 c.	קָטְלוּ	qā-ṭᵉlû	they killed
2 m.	קְטַלְתֶּם	qᵉṭăl-tĕm	ye killed
2 f.	קְטַלְתֶּן	qᵉṭăl-tĕn	ye killed
1 c.	קָטַלְנוּ	qā-ṭăl-nû	we killed

44. Notes

1. The Affomatives for the Perfect.

Singular		Plural
3 m.	----he	3 c.	וּ---they
3 f.	הָ---she	2 m.	תֶּם---ye
2 m.	תָּ---thou	2 f.	תֶּן---ye
2 f.	תְּ---thou
1 c.	תִּי---I	1 c.	נוּ---we

2. Two of these affomatives (הָ and וּ) begin in a vowel and are called vowel affomatives, the others are called consonant affomatives.

3. The vowel changes are due to the shifting of the tone. In the 3 c. pl. instead of קָטַלוּ we find קָטְלוּ. The accent has been drawn from the second syllable and the short vowel can not stand in the open syllable. It has been volatilized. The same is true in the 3 fem. sing. קָטְלָה instead of קָטַלָה.

4. Before the heavily accented afformatives תֶּם and תֶּן in 2 m. pl. and 2 f. pl. the first vowel of the stem ־ is volatilized as the accent is drawn forward thus giving קְטַלְתֶּם and קְטַלְתֶּן instead of קָטַלְתֶּם and קָטַלְתֶּן.

5. Note carefully where the accent falls. It is usually on the טַל syllable. The only exceptions have been mentioned, i. e., before תֶּם, תֶּן, ־ה and וּ. The syllable נוּ is never accented, תְּ and תִּי only in exceptional instances.

45. Vocabulary

1.	זָכַר	zā-kăr	remember	6. קָדַשׁ	qā-dhăš be holy
2.	כָּבַס	kā-văs	wash	7. שָׁבַר	šā-văr break in pieces
3.	לָמַד	lā-mădh	learn	8. שָׁכַב	šā-kăv lie down
4.	סָפַר	sā-phăr	number	9. שָׁפַט	šā-phăṭ judge
5.	קָבַר	qā-văr	bury	10. שָׁטַף	šā-ṭăph overflow

Note. The student will recognize the form זָכַר as being simple Perfect 3 m. sg. and to be translated "he remembered". We shall use this form in the future lessons.

46. Exercises

Translate, pronounce, and transliterate.

סָפַרְתָּ אֶת־הַפָּנִים: שְׁמַרְתֶּם אֶת־הַתּוֹרָה: זָכַרְתִּי אֵת הַנָּבִיא הַטּוֹב: נָתַן אֶת־הַסּוּס לַיֶּלֶד: כָּתְבוּ אֶת־הַדָּבָר הַטּוֹב הַזֶּה:

Translate:

He remembered, ye learned, they judged, ye (f) numbered, we wrote, she buried. The son and the daughter kept the law. The man and the woman ruled in the city.

NOTE. The direct object (if definite) of a verb is marked in Hebrew by אֵת. It is not to be translated but is to be used in the exercises where Hebrew usage calls for it. It may be written as a separate word אֵת הַקּוֹל or joined by maqqeph to the following word as אֶת־הַקּוֹל. When joined to the word in this way the vowel is short.

LESSON XI.

47. THE IMPERFECT

The Imperfect, expressing unfinished action, is formed from an abstract or infinitive substantive, (nomen actionis) preceded by the fragments of the personal pronoun (ב, א, ת, י) which are called preformatives. תִּקְטֹל thou shall kill (lit. thou (to) kill).

In the Perfect (complete action) we are more particularly interested in the fact and the part denoting the person comes last. In the Imperfect (action still incomplete) we are more interested in the person of the agent, and the pronoun is prefixed. (Preformative).

NOTE. Some of the forms have afformatives too.

Singular		Plural
3 m. יִקְטֹל	he will kill	3 m. יִקְטְלוּ	they will kill
3 f. תִּקְטֹל	she will kill	3 f. תִּקְטֹלְנָה	they will kill

2 m.	תִּקְטֹל thou wilt kill	2 m.	תִּקְטְלוּ ye will kill
2 f.	תִּקְטְלִי thou wilt kill	2 f.	תִּקְטֹלְנָה ye will kill
1 c.	אֶקְטֹל I shall kill	1 c.	נִקְטֹל we shall kill

Note the following preformatives and afformatives:

	Singular	Plural
3 m.	---י he	---וּ י they
3 f.	---ת she	---נָה ת they
2 m.	---ת thou	---וּ ת ye
2 f.	---ת י thou	---נָה ת ye
1 c.	---א I	---נ we

48. Notes

1. The vowel under the preformative is ִ (thinned from an original ַ) except under א which prefers ַ. (See rules for gutturals, 16.)

2. The second vowel in most strong verbs is ֹ. It is a tone-long ֹ heightened from an original ָ. It is volatilized before the vowel afformatives (וּ, ִי).

3. The first syllable is closed. Thus we know the šᵉwa under the first radical is a syllable-divider. Watch for dageš-lene following this syllable-divider יִכְתֹּב.

49. Vocabulary

1.	דָּרַשׁ dā-răš tread, seek	6.	קָרַב qā-răv draw near
2.	כָּשַׁל kā-šăl stumble	7.	רָדַף rā-dhăf pursue
3.	מָכַר mā-kăr sell	8.	שָׁבַת šā-văth rest, cease
4.	סָגַר sā-găr shut, close	9.	רָגַז rā-găz tremble
5.	סָתַר sā-thăr conceal	10.	שָׁכַן šā-khăn dwell

50. Exercises

Translate, pronounce and transliterate.

תִּמְשְׁלִי, תִּמְשַׁלְנָה, תִּשְׁמֹר, יִשְׁמֹר, יִשְׁמְרוּ, נִלְמַד: יִלְמַד אֵת הַדָּבָר הַטּוֹב: תִּלְמְדוּ אֵת הַתּוֹרָה: נִרְדֹּף אֶת־הָאִישׁ:

Translate:

They will stumble. We shall draw near. Thou (m) shalt dwell. He will rest. I will sell the sword. They will pursue the man. She will conceal the child.

LESSON XII.

Imperative, Infinitives and Participles

51. The Imperative, used only for affirmative commands, is identical with the Imperfect except that it drops the pronominal preformatives.

	Singular		Plural
2 m.	קְטֹל q^{e}ṭōl kill thou	2 m.	קִטְלוּ qiṭ^{e}lû	kill ye
2 f.	קִטְלִי qiṭ^{e}lî kill thou	2 f.	קְטֹלְנָה q^{e}ṭōlnā(h)	kill ye

The Imperative is never used with a negative. Prohibitions are expressed either by לֹא (not) with the Imperfect or by אַל with the Jussive.

52. The Infinitives

There are two forms of the Infinitive, the Absolute קָטוֹל and the Construct קְטֹל. The Construct is much more common; being used with all prepositions and wherever the Infinitive is a verbal noun. It is identical in form with the 2 m. sing. Imperative (except in Hifil stem).

The Absolute Infinitive קָטוֹל does not admit of any prefix or suffix. It has the effect of throwing forward prominently the bare idea of the verb without defining it in any way. It merely paints an action, without regard to agent, time or circumstance. It usually accompanies a finite verb for added emphasis or to denote continuance of the action. שָׁמֹר שָׁמַרְתִּי keeping, I have kept. מָלוֹךְ תִּמְלֹךְ ruling, thou shalt rule (thou shalt verily be king). N. B. Do not confuse with the Participle.

53. The Participle

The simple form of the verb has two Participles, an active קוֹטֵל qôṭēl killing or one who kills, and the passive קָטוּל qāṭûl killed (dead).

54. Vocabulary

1.	דָּבַק dā-văq	cleave, cling	6.	סָמַךְ ṣā-măk	sustain
2.	גָּבַר gā-văr	be strong, prevail	7.	צָדַק çā-dhăk	be righteous
3.	סָפַד ṣā-fădh	mourn	8.	שָׂכַל sā-kăl	be wise
4.	לָכַד lā-kădh	capture	9.	שָׂרַף sā-răf	burn
5.	גָּנַב gā-năv	steal	10.	תָּפַשׂ tā-făs	seize, catch

55. Exercises

Translate and parse:

לִשְׁמֹר, שִׁמְרוּ, אָשְׁמֹר, שְׁמֹר, מוֹשֵׁל, גָּנוֹב: לֹא תִגְנֹב: לֹא תִשְׁפְּטוּ: זָכֹר אֶת־יוֹם הַשַּׁבָּת: סְפֹר אָת־הַכְּכָבִים: זָכוֹר תִּזְכֹּר לִשְׁמֹר אֶת־הַתּוֹרָה: אֲנַחְנוּ נִכְרֹת עֵצִים מִן־הָהָר:

Learn ye, remember thou, rule thou in the city, remember God and keep the law, keep ye the Sabbath day, thou shalt verily be great, the one keeping (the keeper of) the law.

LESSON XIII.

56. The Substantive

Hebrew has two genders, masculine and feminine, and three numbers, singular, plural and dual. The dual is confined to substantives. It is a kind of a plural, and is chiefly used in the names of objects which go in pairs.

	Singular	Plural	Dual
Masc.	סוּס horse	סוּסִים horses	סוּסַיִם horses (a pair)
Fem.	סוּסָה mare	סוּסוֹת mares	סוּסָתַיִם mares (a pair)

57. Notes

1. There is no particular ending for the masc. sing. טוֹב good.

2. The masc. plural ending ־ִים is usually added directly to the masc. sing. form. שַׂר prince. שָׂרִים princes. טוֹבִים good.

(Some masculine nouns form the plural by adding וֹת. אָב father, אָבוֹת fathers; אוֹת sign, אוֹתוֹת signs; מָקוֹם place, מְקוֹמוֹת places; קוֹל voice, קוֹלוֹת voices; שֵׁם name, שֵׁמוֹת names).

3. The most common feminine singular ending is ־ָה, שָׂרָה princess. טוֹבָה good.

The original form was ־ַת. The ת was dropped and the vowel heightened. The ה was then added to protect the vowel.

4. The unchangeable וֹת is the ending for the feminine plural. דּוֹר generation, דּוֹרוֹת generations; טוֹבוֹת good; שָׂרוֹת princesses; פָּרוֹת cows. (Some feminine nouns form the plural by adding ־ִים. עִיר city, עִירִים cities; יוֹנָה dove, יוֹנִים doves.)

5. Some substantives have two plurals one in ־ִים and one in ־וֹת. דּוֹר generation, נָהָר river, שִׁיר song, and שָׁנָה year.

6. Some substantives are found only in the plural. שָׁמַיִם heavens, מַיִם waters, פָּנִים faces.

7. The dual is used chiefly of objects which occur in pairs and the ending for masculine and feminine is ־ַיִם, יָדַיִם hands (a pair), אָזְנַיִם (two) ears, רַגְלַיִם (two) feet.

58. Vocabulary

1.	אוֹר 'ôr	light	6.	לֹא lō'	not (negative)
2.	דָּם dām	blood	7.	מְאֹד mᵉ'ōdh	exceedingly
3.	זָהָב zāhāv	gold	8.	סֵפֶר sē-phĕr	book
4.	חֹשֶׁךְ ḥō-šĕk	darkness	9.	רוּחַ rûªḥ (f)	spirit
5.	יָם yām	sea	10.	שַׁבָּת šăb-bāth (c)	Sabbath

59. Exercises

Translate:

הַסּוּסִים הַטּוֹבִים: הָאוֹר הַגָּדוֹל: הַשָּׂרִים וְהַשָּׂרוֹת הֵמָּה בְּעִיר: אַתֶּם בָּנִים טוֹבִים וְהֵן בָּנוֹת טוֹבוֹת: שָׁמְרָה אֵת הָרֹאשׁ וְאֵת הַלֵּב:

I remember the songs which we learned in the morning. They will judge the princes. They sold the doves. I cut the trees by the sea.

LESSON XIV.

60. The Cases

Strictly speaking there are no cases in Biblical Hebrew. The relation of words is indicated in most instances by prepositions and by the position and construction of the words. It is evident, however, that Hebrew once had three cases with definite case endings for each. Of these the old Accusative ending ־ָה is frequently found at the end of nouns to denote direction or motion toward, or even the place where. הָהָרָה toward the mountain. The Accusative is more often without a case ending. It is the case of the direct object and if the word is definite it is often preceded by אֵת. שָׁמַר אֵת הָאִישׁ he kept the man. אֵת may also express adverbial definitions of time, space, manner, etc.

The Genitive is clearly indicated by a combination of words which is called the Construct relation. It has no analogy in the corresponding Greek or Latin construction, but corresponds most nearly to the relations expressed by "of" in English, סוּס הָאִישׁ the horse of the man. The two words are pronounced in close connection. They, together, make up one idea. The substantive סוּס is said to be in the construct state and the substantive אִישׁ is in the Absolute state. This is not a case but only a way of expressing what is expressed in other languages by a Genitive case and its governing substantive.

The governing substantive (the one in the construct state) always stands first and the substantive in the absolute state must follow it immediately. In fact they form a compound word. The accent is lost from the first word and in pronunciation we slur over the first to come to the accented syllable in the second word. (The only particles allowed to come between these words are the article and the accusative ending).

In English we may say the man's voice but in Hebrew this is impossible. We must say קוֹל הָאִישׁ the voice of the man. One article suffices for both substantives. A substantive in the construct never takes the article סוּס הָאִישׁ the horse of the man.

When a word in the construct state loses its accent its long vowels (unless unchangeable) are volatilized or shortened.

דָּבָר word, but דְּבַר אִישׁ word of man.

יָד hand, but יַד יהוה hand of Jehovah; כֹּל all, but כָּל־הָאָרֶץ all (of) the earth; תּוֹרָה law, but תּוֹרַת יהוה the law of Jehovah; סוּסִים horses, but סוּסֵי הָאִישׁ the horses of the man.

61. Vocabulary

1.	אֶבֶן 'évĕn (f)	stone	6.	הַר hăr	mountain
2.	אֶחָד 'éḥādh	one	7.	מֶלֶךְ mélĕk	king
3.	אֶרֶץ 'érĕç (f)	earth	8.	עֵד 'édh	witness
4.	בֵּין bên	between	9.	עַם ăm	people
5.	דֶּרֶךְ dérĕk	way	10.	רֶגֶל régĕl (f)	foot

62. Exercises

Translate:

אִישׁ שָׁלוֹם, בְּנֵי הַנָּבִיא, קוֹל הָאָב, יֶלֶד אֱלֹהִים, בְּנֵי הַשָּׂר בָּעִיר, הָהָרָה, אֱלֹהֵי הַשָּׁמַיִם, קוֹל הָאָדָם:

I (am) Jehovah the God of the covenant. He has kept the law of Jehovah. They pursued the man toward the mountain. We captured the people of that city. The son of the king is a witness.

LESSON XV.

63. Pronominal Suffixes with Substantives

The possessive pronouns my, thy, his, our, etc., are not found as separate words in Hebrew but are represented by a very close connection between substantives and pronouns. Fragments of the personal pronouns are attached as suffixes to the substantives. It is really another example of the Construct State. The substantive is in the Construct before a fragment of the pronoun.

Instead of my horse we are forced to use the expression horse of me. His father אָבִיהוּ father of him. Your word דְּבַרְכֶם word of you.

Masculine Substantives.

	Singular	Plural
	סוּס horse	סוּסִים horses
1 c. sg.	סוּסִי my horse	סוּסַי my horses
2 m. sg.	סוּסְךָ thy horse	סוּסֶיךָ thy horses
2 f. sg.	סוּסֵךְ thy horse	סוּסַיִךְ thy horses
3 m. sg.	סוּסוֹ his horse	סוּסָיו his horses
3 f. sg.	סוּסָהּ her horse	סוּסֶיהָ her horses
1 c. pl.	סוּסֵנוּ our horse	סוּסֵינוּ our horses
2 m. pl.	סוּסְכֶם your horse	סוּסֵיכֶם your horses
2 f. pl.	סוּסְכֶן your horse	סוּסֵיכֶן your horses
3 m. pl.	סוּסָם their horse	סוּסֵיהֶם their horses
3 f. pl.	סוּסָן their horse	סוּסֵיהֶן their horses

Note. The paradigm above gives all the endings attached to substantives. When these are thoroughly mastered the student will be able to translate practically any noun form in Hebrew. Many words will present variations in vowels but (in the main) these endings remain the same after all substantives. The vowel changes may be explained on other grounds. See rules for vowel changes (7, 8, 9). E. g. דָּבָר word, דְּבָרִי my word, דְּבָרַי my words. We know that the יִ— when attached to a substantive means my and יַ— is also for my but with a plural substantive.

Thus it will be seen that instead of many declensions, as in other languages, we really have none in Hebrew. We merely have the substantive in the construct plus these pronominal suffixes. Therefore let nothing hinder a complete mastery of these endings.

64. Feminine Substantives

The same endings are used as in the masculine. When the feminine substantive does not have the ending הָ— the suffixes are attached directly just as in the masculine.

When the ending is הָ— the suffixes are added to the original form of the substantive וֹת—.

	Singular	Plural
	סוּסָה mare	סוּסוֹת mares
1 c. sg.	סוּסָתִי my mare	סוּסוֹתַי my mares
2 m. sg.	סוּסָתְךָ thy mare	סוּסוֹתֶיךָ thy mares
2 f. sg.	סוּסָתֵךְ thy mare	סוּסוֹתַיִךְ thy mares
3 m. sg.	סוּסָתוֹ his mare	סוּסוֹתָיו his mares
3 f. sg.	סוּסָתָהּ her mare	סוּסוֹתֶיהָ her mares
1 c. pl.	סוּסָתֵנוּ our mare	סוּסוֹתֵינוּ our mares
2 m. pl.	סוּסַתְכֶם your mare	סוּסוֹתֵיכֶם your mares

2 f. pl.	סוּסַתְכֶן your mare	סוּסֹתֵיכֶן	your mares
3 m. pl.	סוּסָתָם their mare	סוּסֹתֵיהֶם	their mares
3 f. pl.	סוּסָתָן their mare	סוּסֹתֵיהֶן	their mares

NOTES

1. In the singular the old feminine form is used and the endings are joined directly to it. There is no vowel change before the heavily accented syllables כֶם and כֶן, but before all the light suffixes the ַ is heightened to ָ. סוּסָתִי instead of סוּסַתִי but סוּסַתְכֶם and not סוּסָתְכֶם.

2. In the plural there is a double plural ending. The feminine plural וֹת is retained and the regular suffixes are added, סוּסוֹתַי.

65. EXERCISES

1. Write the pronominal suffixes to the following:

יוֹם day, יוֹנָה dove, עִירִים cities, דּוֹרוֹת generations.

NOTE. עִיר is feminine but has ִים— in plural. דּוֹר may have either ִים— or וֹת in plural.

2. Translate:

קוֹלוֹ, אוֹתִי, אוֹתָנוּ, אָבִי, קוֹלֵךְ, קוֹלְכֶם, קוֹלָהּ, גִּבּוֹרַי, גִּבּוֹרֶיהָ, גִּבּוֹרֵנוּ, שִׁירוֹתֵיהֶם, שִׁירוֹתֵיכֶם:

His day, her day, our day, my year, their years, their (m) heroes, your (f) heroes, our prince, their (m) princes.

LESSON XVI.

The substantives used in the preceding lesson have unchangeable vowels and the only thing that we studied was the terminations. It is now taken for granted that the student knows these terminations. They will be used at the end of all substantives.

66. Most words, however, are subject to internal vowel changes when additions are made to them, cf. man, men. It is necessary for the student to get the principles involved in these changes. They depend on two things, the position of the tone (or accent) and the character of the syllable as opened or closed. Read carefully the rules on the vowels of a syllable in 13.

Note especially that the vowel of an open syllable must be long unless accented. The vowel of the ante-penultimate syllable is usually volatilized, מְלָכִים, דְּבָרִים.

67. Masculine Substantives

	Singular		Plural
	דָּבָר	word	דְּבָרִים	words
1. c. sg.	דְּבָרִי	my word	דְּבָרַי	my words
2. m. sg.	דְּבָרְךָ	thy word	דְּבָרֶיךָ	thy words
2 f. sg.	דְּבָרֵךְ	thy word	דְּבָרַיִךְ	thy words
3. m. sg.	דְּבָרוֹ	his word	דְּבָרָיו	his words
3. f. sg.	דְּבָרָהּ	her word	דְּבָרֶיהָ	her words
1. c. pl.	דְּבָרֵנוּ	our word	דְּבָרֵינוּ	our words
2. m. pl.	דְּבַרְכֶם	your word	דְּבְרֵיכֶם	your words

2. f. pl.	דְּבַרְכֶן	your word	דִּבְרֵיכֶן	your words
3. m. pl.	דְּבָרָם	their word	דִּבְרֵיהֶם	their words
3. f. pl.	דְּבָרָן	their word	דִּבְרֵיהֶן	their words

68. Vocabulary

1.	חַטָּאת	ḥăṭ-ṭāth	sin
2.	כֹּהֵן	kô-hēn	priest
3.	כּוֹכָב	kô-kāv	star
4.	מִשְׁפָּט	mĭš-pāt	judgment
5.	עֵת	ʻēth (f)	time
6.	פֶּה	pé(h)	mouth
7.	קָטֹן	qā-ṭôn	small
8.	רַב	răv	many
9.	רַע	rāʻ	bad, evil
10.	שָׂדֶה	sā-dhé (h)	field

69. Exercises

Write the pronominal suffixes to the following words:

יָשָׁר upright, מָשָׁל proverb, נְהָרִים rivers

Translate:

דְּבָרַי, דִּבְרֵיכֶם, קוֹלָם, יוֹמָן, קוֹלֵךְ, אֲחֵיךְ, קוֹלָהּ, פִּיךְ, תּוֹרָתְךָ, תּוֹרָתוֹ, בִּרְיָתָם, אֱלֹהַיִךְ, אֱלֹהֵינוּ, אֱלֹהַי, אֲדֹנָי:

His blood, my hand, your (m) hands, thy song, their words, the stars in the heavens. Thy law is perfect. Her hero ruled in the mountain.

LESSON XVII.

70. Some Principles of Syntax

1. The verb usually stands first in the sentence. (The interrogative pronoun usually precedes the verb.) If the negative is used it precedes the verb.

מָכַר הָאִישׁ סוּס the man sold a horse.

לֹא שָׁמַר אֶת־הַתּוֹרָה he did not keep the law.

2. Any word may be given first place in the sentence when particular emphasis is wanted on that word.

לִי הַכֹּהֵן נָתַן סֵפֶר the priest has given me a book.

3. The subject, unless emphatic, usually follows the verb.

אָמַר יהוה Jehovah said.

4. The adjective when attributive follows its substantive and agrees with it in gender, number and definiteness.

5. The demonstrative is either a pronoun or an adjective. When an adjective it follows the substantive, and both take the article. הַקּוֹל הַזֶּה this voice.

If another adjective is used the demonstrative adjective comes after it, and each word is made definite by the article.

6. The direct object of the verb is the next in order and if definite has the particle אֵת immediately before it. (It is not to be translated) קָטַל הָאִישׁ אֵת הַסּוּס the man killed the horse.

7. The word order to be observed is as follows:

Verb, subject (and its modifiers), direct object (and its modifiers), indirect object. When any other order is followed it is usually that special emphasis may be given.

כָּתַב הַמֶּלֶךְ הַגָּדוֹל הַזֶּה אֵת הַדָּבָר הַטּוֹב לַשָּׂר׃

This great king wrote the good word to the prince.

71. Vocabulary

1.	גּוֹי gô	nation	6.	חֶסֶד ḥésĕdh	kindness
2.	דּוֹר dôr	generation	7.	יַיִן yă yĭn	wine
3.	חוֹמָה ḥô mā(h) (f)	wall	8.	לֶחֶם lé ḥĕm (c)	bread
4.	חוּץ ḥûç	abroad	9.	נַעַר nă ăr	boy, servant
5.	חָמֵשׁ ḥā méš	five	10.	צאֹן ç'ōn (c)	flock

72. Exercises

Translate:

הַשָּׁנִים הָאֵלֶּה: הָאָרֶץ הַזֹּאת: נָתַן אֱלֹהִים אֶת־הַדָּבָר בַּיּוֹם הַהוּא: שָׁמַר הָאָדָם אֶת־הַשַּׁבָּת: לָמַד הַיֶּלֶד הַקָּטָן מִן־הַסֵּפֶר: לֹא מְשַׁלְתֶּם אֶת־הַיֶּלֶד:

Thou shalt cleave unto the Lord thy God. This man shall not rule over us. The princess shall dwell in the city. They shall dwell in the land. Ye have not kept my law.

LESSON XVIII.

The Stems or Voices of the Verb

Besides the form we learned in Lesson x there are other formations of the verb stem called voices, stems, formations, or conjugations. By these verbal forms are expressed ideas of intensity, causality, volition, activity, passivity, reflexion, and reciprocity. These different formations have generally received the name "conjugations"; but this is misleading, for it suggests types of inflection. These derived stems or voices are formed from the simple (Qal) stem by means of prefixes, certain vowel changes, and the repetition of the second or third radical letter.

73. The stem idea or meaning of the verb is presented in three conditions or degrees: the simple (Qal), to love; the Intensive, to love passionately; the causative (or extensive) extending the action over a second agent to make to love, to cause to love. Each of these has an active and passive form. The intensive has a reflexive form.

Simple	Intensive	Causative
Active (Qal)	Active (Piel)	Active (Hifil)
Passive (Nifal)	Passive (Pual)	Passive (Hofal)
(Reflexive (Nifal))	Reflexive (Hithpael)

1. The Simple Active (Qal) קָטַל he killed
2. The Simple Passive (Nifal) נִקְטַל he was killed
3. The Intensive Active (Piel) קִטֵּל he slaughtered
4. The Intensive Passive (Pual) קֻטַּל he was slaughtered
5. The Intensive Reflexive (Hithpael) הִתְקַטֵּל he killed himself
6. The Causative Active (Hifil) הִקְטִיל he caused to kill
7. The Causative Passive (Hofal) הָקְטַל he was caused to kill

74. Characteristics of these Stems

1. Qal—the simple verb stem as found in the lexicon.

2. Nifal (or nĭqtăl)—a prefixed נ (shortened from הִן) to the regular simple stem. נִקְטַל

3. Piel (or qĭṭṭēl)—second radical doubled. ־ under first radical. קִטֵּל

4. Pual (or qŭṭṭăl) second radical doubled. ֻ under first radical. קֻטַּל

5. Hithpael (or hĭthqăṭṭēl)—second radical doubled. הִת prefixed to Piel form. הִתְקַטֵּל

6. Hifil (or hĭqṭîl)—a prefixed ה. הִקְטִיל

7. Hofal (or hŏqṭăl) a prefixed ה. הָקְטַל

NOTES:

1. The names for these stems have come from the old Jewish paradigm word פָּעַל to do, and while we use קָטַל as a paradigm word now it is probably best to continue the old names for these stems.

2. The names of these stems indicate the vowels to be used in the Perfects. קִטֵּל qĭṭ-ṭēl—(Piel). נִקְטַל nĭq-ṭăl—(Nifal). קָטַל qŭṭṭăl—(Pual). הִקְטִיל hĭqtîl—(Hifil).

3. The intensive means that which is increased from within, and to express intensity the middle radical of the verb is doubled, קִטֵּל qĭṭṭēl, קָטַל and הִתְקַטֵּל.

4. The Causative stem (or extensive) is increased from without הִקְטִיל hĭq-ṭîl, הָקְטַל.

5. The complete paradigm of the seven stems is given, although only six of the verbs out of fourteen hundred make use of all these stems.

6. Learn the names and characteristics of each of these stems before going further. It is absolutely essential.

75. VOCABULARY

1. טָמֵא	unclean	4. לָשׁוֹן (f.)	tongue
2. יֵשׁ	there is	5. מֵאָה (f.)	hundred
3. כֶּרֶם	vineyard	6. עַל	upon

7. עִם with
8. עָנָן cloud
9. עָפָר dust
10. פְּרִי fruit

76. Exercises

1. Write the 3 mas. sing. perfect of each of the seven stems treated above, using the following verbs. קָטַל kill, מָלַךְ be king, מָשַׁל rule, שָׁמַר keep, גָּנַב steal, קָדַשׁ be holy.

2. Translate and parse:

גָּדַל, הִגְדִּיל, נִגְנַב, הוֹכִיר, הִדְבִּיק, כִּשֵּׁל, נִכְתַּב, הִתְמַכֵּר, הִמְשִׁיל, פֻּקַּד, הִתְפַּקֵּד, קִדַּשׁ, שִׁבַּר, גָּנַב, נִשְׁכַּח, הָפְקַד, הָשְׁכַּב, נִקְדַּשׁ, נִקְבַּר:

LESSON XIX.

The Remaining Perfects

77. The Nifal (Niqtal) or simple Passive Stem נִקְטַל from נִקְטַל.

The characteristic of this stem is the prefixed נ. With this exception the inflection is the same as in the active (Qal) stem.

3. m. s.	נִקְטַל	he was killed or he killed himself
3. f. s.	נִקְטְלָה	she was killed
2. m. s.	נִקְטַלְתָּ	thou wast killed
2. f. s.	נִקְטַלְתְּ	thou wast killed
1. c. s.	נִקְטַלְתִּי	I was killed
3. c. p.	נִקְטְלוּ	they were killed

2. m. p. נִקְטַלְתֶּם you were killed

2. f. p. נִקְטַלְתֶּן you were killed

1. c. p. נִקְטַלְנוּ we were killed

78. The Intensive stems—Active (Piel), Passive (Pual), Reflexive (Hithpael).

The characteristic of these stems, is the doubling of the middle radical. The Hithpael has a prefixed הִת before the root form of the Piel.

PIEL

Singular

3. m. קִטֵּל he has massacred

3. f. קִטְּלָה she has massacred

2. m. קִטַּלְתָּ thou hast massacred

2. f. קִטַּלְתְּ thou hast massacred

1. c. קִטַּלְתִּי I have massacred

Plural

3. c. קִטְּלוּ they have massacred

2. m. קִטַּלְתֶּם you have massacred

2. f. קִטַּלְתֶּן you have massacred

1. c. קִטַּלְנוּ we have massacred

PUAL

Singular

3. m. קֻטַל he has been massacred
3. f. קֻטְלָה she has been massacred
2. m. קֻטַלְתָּ thou hast been massacred
2. f. קֻטַלְתְּ thou hast been massacred
1. c. קֻטַלְתִּי I have been massacred

Plural

3. c. קֻטְלוּ they have been massacred
2. m. קֻטַלְתֶּם you have been massacred
2. f. קֻטַלְתֶּן you have been massacred
1. c. קֻטַלְנוּ we have been massacred

HITHPAEL

Singular

3. m. הִתְקַטֵּל he has killed himself
3. f. הִתְקַטְּלָה she has killed herself
2. m. הִתְקַטַּלְתָּ thou hast killed thyself
2. f. הִתְקַטַּלְתְּ thou hast killed thyself
1. c. הִתְקַטַּלְתִּי I have killed myself

Plural

3. c. הִתְקַטְּלוּ they have killed themselves
2. m. הִתְקַטַּלְתֶּם you have killed yourselves

2. f. הִתְקַטַּלְתֶּן you have killed yourselves

1. c. הִתְקַטַּלְנוּ we have killed ourselves

NOTE:

1. These forms are inflected exactly like the Qal.

2. The Piel is the intensive of the Qal and is active. שָׁבַר to break, שִׁבֵּר to break to pieces, שָׁאַל to ask, שִׁאֵל to beseech or beg.

3. The Pual is the passive of the intensive stem in all its various senses. אֻכַל it was consumed.

4. The Hithpael is reflexive. Note the prefixed הִת to the root form of the Piel. הִתְקַדֵּשׁ he sanctified himself. הִתְגַּדֵּל he acted proudly.

79. The Causative Stems—Active (Hifil) and Passive (Hofal). Note the prefixed ה.

HIFIL

Singular

3. m. הִקְטִיל he has caused to kill

3. f. הִקְטִילָה she has caused to kill

2. m. הִקְטַלְתָּ thou hast caused to kill

2. f. הִקְטַלְתְּ thou hast caused to kill

1. הִקְטַלְתִּי I have caused to kill

Plural

3. c. הִקְטִילוּ they have caused to kill

2. m. הִקְטַלְתֶּם you have caused to kill

2. f. הִקְטַלְתֶּן you have caused to kill

1. c. הִקְטַלְנוּ we have caused to kill

HOFAL

Singular

3. m.	הָקְטַל	he was caused to kill
3. f.	הָקְטְלָה	she was caused to kill
2. m.	הָקְטַלְתָּ	thou wast caused to kill
2. f.	הָקְטַלְתְּ	thou wast caused to kill
1. c.	הָקְטַלְתִּי	I was caused to kill

Plural

3. c.	הָקְטְלוּ	they were caused to kill
2. m.	הָקְטַלְתֶּם	you were caused to kill
2. f.	הָקְטַלְתֶּן	you were caused to kill
1. c.	הָקְטַלְנוּ	we were caused to kill

NOTES:

1. The Hifil (Causative active) has a prefixed הַ with ַ attenuated from an original ָ under it. The final vowel is anomalously lengthened from ֵ. This in turn comes from an original ֶ. Before vowel additions this יִ— is retained and accented הַקְטִילוּ. Before consonant additions the original ֶ is restored. הַקְטַלְתְּ.

2. The Hofal (Causative passive) has the prefixed הָ with the vowel Qameç Hatuph. (Sometimes the original Qibbuç takes its place). It is the regular passive of the Hifil הָשְׁלַכְתִּי I was cast.

80. Vocabulary

1. אֵשׁ fire (f.)	4. גֵּר sojourner	7. כֹּחַ strength
2. גַּם also	5. חַג feast	8. (כֹּל-), כֹּל all, every
3. גַּן garden	6. חֹק statute	9. לַיְלָה night

81. Exercises

Translate:

נִפְקַדְתֶּם, דִּבַּרְתָּ, שִׁבְרוּ, בִּקְשָׁה, הִמְלַכְתִּי, הִשְׁמִיד, הָשְׁלַךְ, דִּבַּרְתֶּם, הִתְגַּדַּלְתָּ, נִסְתְּרָה, הִתְקַדְּשׁוּ, נִשְׁמַרְתֶּם, בָּקְשָׁה:

They escaped (Ni.) from his hand. He was buried in the city. We spoke (Pi.) the word to the people. They hid themselves among the trees in the garden. They made the man king.

LESSON XX.

The Remaining Imperfects

82. The Nifal or Simple Passive Stem

The prefix in the Imperfect is יִ (yĭn) the n is always assimilated when followed by a syllable-divider, thus we have יִקָּטֵל for יִנָּקָטֵל.

(The original form was probably יִהִנָּקָטֵל. The ה was elided after the preformative and the נ is assimilated as noted above יִהִנָּקָטֵל = יִהָקָּטֵל = יִקָּטֵל.

NIFAL

	Singular		Plural
3. m.	יִקָּטֵל	he shall be killed	יִקָּטְלוּ	they shall be killed
3. f.	תִּקָּטֵל	she shall be killed	תִּקָּטַלְנָה	they shall be killed
2. m.	תִּקָּטֵל	thou shalt be killed	תִּקָּטְלוּ	you shall be killed
2. f.	תִּקָּטְלִי	thou shalt be killed	תִּקָּטַלְנָה	you shall be killed
1.	אֶקָּטֵל	I shall be killed	נִקָּטֵל	we shall be killed

NOTES:

1. The inflection is perfectly regular after the order of the Qal.

2. Note the ־ instead of ־ before נָה.

3. According to the form the Nifal is clearly reflexive and not passive, but in common use it is the passive of the Qal.

NOTE. The corresponding Arabic formation has a passive of its own.

יִשְׁבֹּר	he will break	יִשָּׁבֵר	he will be broken
יִשְׁמֹר	he will keep	יִשָּׁמֵר	he will keep himself

83. The Intensive Stem—Active (Piel), Passive (Pual), Reflexive (Hithpael).

Remember that the intensive stems double the middle radical.

PIEL

	Singular
3. m.	יְקַטֵּל	he will massacre
3. f.	תְּקַטֵּל	she will massacre
2. m.	תְּקַטֵּל	thou wilt massacre

2. f.	תִּקְטְלִי	thou wilt massacre
1. c.	אֶקְטֹל	I shall massacre

Plural

3. m.	יִקְטְלוּ	they will massacre
3. f.	תִּקְטֹלְנָה	they will massacre
2. m.	תִּקְטְלוּ	you will massacre
2. f.	תִּקְטֹלְנָה	you will massacre
1. c.	נִקְטֹל	we will massacre

PUAL

Singular

3. m.	יְקֻטַּל	he will be massacred
3. f.	תְּקֻטַּל	she shall be massacred
2. m.	תְּקֻטַּל	thou shalt be massacred
2. f.	תְּקֻטְּלִי	thou shalt be massacred
1. c.	אֲקֻטַּל	I shall be massacred

Plural

3. m.	יְקֻטְּלוּ	they shall be massacred
3. f.	תְּקֻטַּלְנָה	they shall be massacred
2. m.	תְּקֻטְּלוּ	you shall be massacred
2. f.	תְּקֻטַּלְנָה	you shall be massacred
1. c.	נְקֻטַּל	we shall be massacred

HITHPAEL

Singular

3. m.	יִתְקַטֵּל	he will kill himself
3. f.	תִּתְקַטֵּל	she will kill herself
2. m.	תִּתְקַטֵּל	thou wilt kill thyself
2. f.	תִּתְקַטְּלִי	thou wilt kill thyself
1. c.	אֶתְקַטֵּל	I will kill myself

Plural

3. m.	יִתְקַטְּלוּ	they will kill themselves
3. f.	תִּתְקַטֵּלְנָה	they will kill themselves
2. m.	יִתְקַטְּלוּ	you will kill yourselves
2. f.	תִּתְקַטֵּלְנָה	you will kill yourselves
1. c.	נִתְקַטֵּל	we will kill ourselves

NOTES:

1. In the Piel the original penultimate vowel ־ is retained and the stem is קַטֵּל.

The preformative has ־ִ under it. (The guttural א in 1 c. sg. calls for ־ַ).

The inflection is regular. Before נָה we usually find ־ֵ תִּתְקַטֵּלְנָה.

The meaning is properly intensive. יִשְׁבֹּר (Qal) he will break. יְשַׁבֵּר he will break in pieces. It may have a Causative force יִלְמַד he will learn יְלַמֵּד he will teach.

2. The Pual is inflected regularly. It has the dull vowel, qibbuç, under the first radical. The preformative vowel is ־ֻ.

Before נָה we usually find ־ֵי. It is the regular passive of the Piel. יְבֻקַּשׁ he will be sought.

3. The Hithpael has the prefix יִת and is inflected regularly. Before the נָה we find the vowel ־ֵי. When the prefix precedes the sibilants ס, שׂ, שׁ the ת changes places with the sibilant, יִשְׁתַּמֵּר for יִתְשַׁמֵּר he will be on his guard. The ת may be assimilated before ד, ת, ט and changed to ט and transposed before צ. יִטַּהֵר for יִתְטַהֵר he will purify himself. הִצְטַדֵּק for הִתְצַדֵּק.

84. The Causative Stems: Active (Hifil) and Passive (Hofal).

HIFIL

Singular

3. m. יַקְטִיל he will cause to kill
3. f. תַּקְטִיל she will cause to kill
2. m. תַּקְטִיל thou wilt cause to kill
2. f. תַּקְטִילִי thou wilt cause to kill
1. c. אַקְטִיל I will cause to kill

Plural

3. m. יַקְטִילוּ they will cause to kill
3. f. תַּקְטֵלְנָה they will cause to kill
2. m. תַּקְטִילוּ you will cause to kill
2. f. תַּקְטֵלְנָה you will cause to kill
1. c. נַקְטִיל we will cause to kill

HOFAL

Singular

3. m.	יָקְטַל	he will be caused to kill
3. f.	תָּקְטַל	she will be caused to kill
2. m.	תָּקְטַל	thou wilt be caused to kill
2. f.	תָּקְטְלִי	thou wilt be caused to kill
1. c.	אָקְטַל	I will be caused to kill

Plural

3. m.	יָקְטְלוּ	they will be caused to kill
3. f.	תָּקְטַלְנָה	they will be caused to kill
2. m.	תָּקְטְלוּ	you will be caused to kill
2. f.	תָּקְטַלְנָה	you will be caused to kill
1. c.	נָקְטַל	we will be caused to kill

NOTES:

1. Hifil—(a) The original penultimate ־ is retained under the preformative יַקְטִיל for יְהַקְטִיל.

(b) The יִ— is retained and accented before vowel additions.

(c) The vowel ־ instead of יִ— occurs before נָה.

(d) The causative idea is the prevailing one in the Hifil יַמְשִׁיל he will cause to rule.

2. Hofal—יָקְטַל for יְהָקְטַל is regular in its inflection. It is the passive of the Causative יָשְׁלַךְ he will be cast out.

85. Exercises

Translate:

אָסַתֵּר, יִשָּׁבֵר, תִּשָּׁבַרְנָה, יִקָּדְשׁוּ, תִּדָּבֵר, יִכָּפֵר, תִּקָּדְשׁוּ, תִּסָּגְרוּ, תִּתְקַדַּשׁוּ, אָסְתַּתֵּר, יִוָּכִירוּ, תִּוָּכַרְנָה, תַּשָּׁלֵיכוּ, יָפֻקְדוּ:

Translate:

The hand of the man will be cut off. They will be buried in the earth. We will teach our daughters. The man will cause the child to stumble. The prince will be made king.

LESSON XXI.

The Imperatives, Infinitives and Participles

86. Imperatives

Imperatives	Hithpael	Hifil	Piel	Nifil
2 m. s.	הִתְקַטֵּל	הַקְטֵל	קַטֵּל	הָקָטֵל
2 f. s.	הִתְקַטְּלִי	הַקְטִילִי	קַטְּלִי	הָקָטְלִי
2 m. p.	הִתְקַטְּלוּ	הַקְטִילוּ	קַטְּלוּ	הָקָטְלוּ
2 f. p.	הִתְקַטַּלְנָה	הַקְטֵלְנָה	קַטֵּלְנָה	הָקָטֵלְנָה

Notes:

1. The stem of the Imv. is the same as the Imperfect.

2. The Passive stems, Pual and Hofal, have no Imperatives.

87. The Infinitives

	Absolute	Construct
Nifal	הִקָּטֵל, נִקְטֹל	הִקָּטֵל
Piel	קַטֵּל	קַטֵּל
Pual	קֻטַּל	(קֻטַּל)
Hithpael	(הִתְקַטֵּל)	הִתְקַטֵּל
Hifil	הַקְטֵל	הַקְטִיל
Hofal	הָקְטֵל	הָקְטַל

Notes:

1. There are two Infinitives for each stem. No example of the Hithpael Inf. Absolute or the Pual Inf. Construct is found.

2. The Nifal Inf. Absolute has two forms. Either form may be used.

3. Prepositions may precede and suffixes may be added to the Inf. Const. but never to the Absolute.

88. The Participles

Qal	קֹטֵל (Active)	קָטוּל (Passive)
Nifal	נִקְטָל
Piel	מְקַטֵּל
Pual	מְקֻטָּל
Hithpael	מִתְקַטֵּל
Hifil	מַקְטִיל
Hofal	מָקְטָל

NOTES:

1. Each of these stems has one participle except the Qal which has both an active and a passive form.

2. Observe that, with the exception of the Qal and Nifal, the participle is formed by prefixing מ to the stem in the place of the preformative of the Imperfect.

Thus:

מִתְקַטֵּל–יִתְקַטֵּל ;מְקַטֵּל–יְקַטֵּל ;מַקְטִיל–יַקְטִיל

3. The participle being a nominal form must have a long vowel in the ultima (נִמְשָׁל)

89. VOCABULARY

1. חֵן favor, grace
2. מָגֵן shield
3. מַלְכָּה queen (f.)
4. מָשָׁל proverb
5. נָהָר river
6. עֶבֶד servant
7. עַתָּה now
8. אַתָּה thou (m)
9. צוּר rock
10. רֵעַ friend
11. רֹעֶה shepherd

90. EXERCISES

Translate and explain forms:

כָּתוּב, שָׁבוּר, נִשְׁבָּר, נִפְרָד, מְדַבֵּר, מְבַקֵּשׁ, מְקַדֵּשׁ, מַזְכִּיר, מַקְרִיב, מָפְקָד, מִתְקַדֵּשׁ, מִסְתַּתֵּר, הַנָּתָן, הַשְׁכֵּם, הִתְקַדְּשׁוּ, בַּקְּשִׁי, הַכָּרֵת, דַּבֵּר, הַמָּלֵט:

In the day of fighting (Inf. Const.). Sanctify (Pi.) the Sabbath. Seek (Pi) the light. Make the man king. He remembered to speak the word. Wash yourselves and minister to the people.

LESSON XXII.

91. A Synopsis of the Strong Verb

	Simple		Intensive			Causative
	Qal	Nifal	Piel	Pual	Hithpael	Hifil	Hofal
Perf.	קָטַל	נִקְטַל	קִטֵּל	קֻטַּל	הִתְקַטֵּל	הִקְטִיל	הָקְטַל
Impf.	יִקְטֹל	יִקָּטֵל	יְקַטֵּל	יְקֻטַּל	יִתְקַטֵּל	יַקְטִיל	יָקְטַל
Imv.	קְטֹל	הִקָּטֵל	קַטֵּל	——	הִתְקַטֵּל	הַקְטֵל	——
Inf. A.	קָטוֹל	הִקָּטֵל	קַטֵּל	קְטֹל	——	הַקְטֵל	הָקְטַל
Inf. C.	קְטֹל	הִקָּטֵל	קַטֵּל	——	הִתְקַטֵּל	הַקְטִיל	הָקְטַל
Ptc. A.	קֹטֵל	——	מְקַטֵּל	——	מִתְקַטֵּל	מַקְטִיל	——
Ptc. P.	קָטוּל	נִקְטָל	——	מְקֻטָּל	——	——	מָקְטָל

92. Notes

1. Learn to pronounce the names of the stems perfectly. The Perfects may be written by observing the vowels of the names of the stems. Nifal נִקְטַל (a short i and a short a). Piel קִטֵּל (a short i and a long e).

2. In writing the Imperfects the student will do well to observe the suggestions contained in the following table. (From Dr. W. R. Harper's book).

Name of stem	Qal	Nif.	Piel	Pual	Hithpael	Hif.	Hof.
Preformative with vowel	יִ	יִ	יְ	יְ	יִת	יַ	יָ
First radical with vowel	קָ	קָ	קַ	קָ	קַ	קִ	קָ
Second radical with vowel	טַ	טַ	טַ	טַ	טַ	טְי	טַ

3. The Intensive Stems have the second radical doubled everywhere. The Active and Passive are distinguished by the vowels and the reflexive by the prefix, יִת.

4. The Nifal has נ in every form. It is always assimilated, except in Perf. and Ptc.

5. In the Hifil ־ַ is found under the preformative, except in the Perf.

6. The Hofal has the short o (־ָ) under the preformatives in all forms.

7. The Infinitive Absolute has o in the last syllable, except in Hif. and Hof. where it has e.

8. The passive forms have no Imperatives.

9. The preformative letter for all Participles is מ except in Qal and Nif.

Let nothing hinder an absolute mastery of the strong verb. If the student knows this he will have little trouble with the irregular verbs.

93. Vocabulary

1. בָּגַד deal treacherously
2. בָּשַׁל boil
3. גָּזַל tear away
4. גָּמַל deal well or ill with
5. זָקֵן be old
6. כפר cover (Pi.)
7. מטר rain (Hi)
8. מלט escape (Ni.)
9. שׁרת minister (Pi.)

94. Exercises

Translate and explain the forms:

לִמְלֹךְ, סְפֹר, זֻכְרָה, פָּקַדְתִּי, יִלְמְדוּ, תִּשְׁמְרוּ, יִמָּלֵט, נִשְׁבְּרוּ, תִּמָּלַטְנָה, שִׁבְרוּ, בַּקְּשׁוּ, קִדַּשְׁתִּי, מְקֻדָּשׁ, יִתְלַמְּדוּ, מַקְרִיב, מְסִתַּגֵּר, תַּזְכֵּרְנָה, הַזְכִּיר, הָפְקַדְתִּי, מַבְדִּיל:

Translate:

She will not escape from his hand. I will hide myself. Cause to-come-near to me thy horse. I will separate the sons from their city. God will surely hide his face from this people.

LESSON XXIII.

Waw Consecutive (Conversive)

95. One of the marked peculiarities of the Hebrew language is now to be considered. Nothing like it is found in any of the other languages the student has studied.

The conjunction ו (and) is frequently joined on to a verb (Perf. or Impf.) to indicate that what is now added is the result of sequence of the preceding; as He spoke and it was done.

In continued narrations after a simple Perfect the verbs that follow are in the Imperfect, and connected with the preceding Perfect by means of the Waw Consecutive. God was (Perf.) with me and kept (Impf. plus וְ) me and led (Impf. plus וְ) me, and gave (Impf. plus וְ) me bread. After a simple Imperfect the verbs that follow are in the Perfect and connected with the preceding Imperfect by Waw Consecutive. God will be (Impf.) with me and keep (Perf. plus וְ) me and lead (Perf. plus וְ) me.

מָשַׁל he ruled	יִמְשֹׁל he will rule
וּמָשַׁל and he will rule	וַיִּמְשֹׁל and he ruled

It seems from the above that the waw has the power of converting the Perfect into an Imperfect and vice versa. In fact the older grammars named this "Waw Conversive" but a better understanding of the Hebrew tenses has led to the abandonment of this term by most modern grammarians. The verbs, connected by Waw, form in the mind of the author one chain or series linked together, in which the verbs with Waw Consecutive are judged from the point of view of the first verb and from that point of view are considered as expressing a completed or incomplete action.

NOTE. The Waw must be attached directly to the verb. If any word comes in between the Waw and the verb, the series is broken and the verb goes back to the tense of the first verb in the series.

Compare: זָכַר וַיִּשְׁמֹר אֶת־מִצְוֹת יהוה with שָׁכַח וְלֹא שָׁמַר אֶת־מִצְוֹת יהוה. In the latter לֹא comes in between Waw and the second verb; therefore the conjunction has no consecutive force, and the second verb is in the Perfect like the first.

96. The Form of the Conjuction

(a) With the Perfect, it is the same as weak Waw or Waw Conjunctive with its various pointings. וְקָרָא, וּמָשַׁל, וָחַי.

(b) With the Imperfect, it is וַ followed by dagheš-forte, and pointed just as the article. וַיִּקְטֹל, וַיַּקְטֵל, וַיִּקְרָא.

97. The Verbal Form Used

(a) The usual verbal form is used in the Perfect, and very often the accent is shifted from the penult to the ultima. וְאֶמַרְתָּ instead of וְאָמַרְתְּ.

(b) The Imperfect prefers a shortened form and the tone is usually retracted from the last syllable to the penultimate syllable, when this syllable is open.

98. Vocabulary

1. בָּחַר choose
2. בָּטַח trust
3. בָּרַךְ bless
4. בָּרָא create
5. לָחַם fight
6. מָלֵא be full
7. מָצָא find
8. רָחַם have mercy
9. שָׁאַל ask
10. שׁכם rise early (Hif.)

99. Exercises

Translate:

נִלְחַם עַל־הָעִיר וַיִּלְכֹּד אֹתָהּ: זָכַר אֱלֹהִים בְּרִיתוֹ וַיִּפְקֹד הָעָם: יִפְקֹד אֱלֹהִים עַמּוֹ וְשָׁמַר אֹתָם: דִּבַּרְתִּי אֶת־הַדָּבָר וְלֹא כָּשָׁלוּ: יָשְׁכִים וְנִמְלַט וּבִקֵּשׁ רַע:

He rose early (Hif.) and escaped and sought a friend. God gave them a good law and they kept his words. I pursued the man and did not stumble. They dwelt by the rivers of that land and they remembered his covenant and kept his words.

LESSON XXIV.

Pronominal Suffixes with Verbs

The direct object of a verb, when a pronoun, may be written as a suffix to אֵת (אֹתוֹ him) or as a suffix to the verb. These fragmentary pronouns are joined to active verbs and point out the person or thing acted upon. הִקְטִילוֹ he caused one to kill him.

100. The suffixes for Perfect and Imperfect, when the verbal form ends in a vowel, are as follows:

Singular		Plural
me	—נִי	us	—נוּ
thee (m.)	—ךָ	you (m.)	—כֶם thee (f.)	—ךְ	you (f.)	(wanting)
him	—הוּ	them (m.)	—ם
her	—הָ	them (f.)	—ן

101. When the verbal form ends in a consonant, a so-called connecting vowel is required before the suffix can be attached. In the Perfects this is ־ and in the Imperfects and Imperatives it is ־.

After Consonantal Stems

	Perfect	Imperfect
1. me	־נִי	־נִי
2. thee (m.)	־ךָ	־ךָ
2. thee (f.)	־ךְ or ־ךְ	־ךְ
3. him	(־הוּ) = ־וֹ	־הוּ
3. her	־הָ	־הָ
1. us	־נוּ	־נוּ
2. you (m.)	־כֶם	־כֶם
2. you (f.)	־כֶן	־כֶן
3. them (m.)	־ם	־ם
3. them (f.)	־ן	(wanting)

102. Notes

1. These suffixes resemble very closely the noun suffixes. The chief differences are in the 1st per. sing. suffix, which is not î, but nî, and in the 3rd sing. m. and f. suffixes to the Impf., which are ēhû and éhā.

2. The difference between the two paradigms given above is merely that of the connecting vowel.

3. The Imperative takes the same suffix and the same connecting vowel as the Imperfect.

4. The Infinitive Construct takes noun suffixes. (The 1st per. sing. suffix may be either verbal or nominal).

5. The suffixes to the Participle are practically always those of the noun.

6. Singular suffixes to the Imperfect and Imperative are sometimes strengthened by the addition of Nun which is usually assimilated to the following consonant (יִקְטָלֵנִי). Before the suffixes הוּ and הָ the נ is retained and the ה is assimilated backward, giving נּ.

103. Suffixes to the Hifil

Perfect

	הִקְטִיל	he caused to kill
1. s. c.	הִקְטִילַנִי	he caused me to kill
2. s. m.	הִקְטִילְךָ	he caused thee to kill
2. s. f.	הִקְטִילֵךְ	he caused thee to kill
3. s. m.	הִקְטִילוֹ	he caused him to kill
3. s. f.	הִקְטִילָהּ	he caused to kill her
1 pl. c.	הִקְטִילָנוּ	he caused to kill us
2. pl. m.	הִקְטִילְכֶם	he caused to kill you
2. pl. f.	הִקְטִילְכֶן	he caused to kill you
3. pl. m.	הִקְטִילָם	he caused to kill them
3. pl. f.	הִקְטִילָן	he caused to kill them

Imperfect

	יַקְטִיל	he will cause to kill
1. s. c.	יַקְטִילַנִי	he will cause me to kill
2. s. m.	יַקְטִילְךָ	he will cause to kill thee
2. s. f.	יַקְטִילֵךְ	he will cause to kill thee
3. s. m.	יַקְטִילֵהוּ	he will cause to kill him
3. s. f.	יַקְטִילָהּ	he will cause to kill her

1. pl. c.	יַקְטִילֵנוּ	he will cause us to kill
2. pl. m.	יַקְטִילְכֶם	he will cause you to kill
2. pl. f.	יַקְטִילְכֶן	he will cause to kill you
3. pl. m.	יַקְטִילֵם	he will cause to kill them
3. pl. f.	(wanting)	he will cause to kill them

104. Notes

1. The Hifil is used because it presents no internal vowel change. It corresponds to our familiar paradigm word, סוּס horse.

2. The general rules as to the vowel in the ultimate syllable of the verb are as follows:

(1) ֵ becomes ֶ (except before כֶם and כֶן) שְׁמָעַנִי he heard me.

(2) ֵ and ֶ become vocal šᵉwa except before ה and כֶם. יְכַבְּדֵנִי he will honor me.

(3) יִ— remains unaffected יַשְׁמִידֵנִי he will destroy me.

3. The old ground form of the verb comes back before suffixes.

קְטָלַת with suffixes קַטַלַת = קָטְלָה
קְטָלוּ with suffixes קַטָלוּ = קָטְלוּ
קְטָלְתּוּ with suffixes קְטַלְתּוּם = קְטַלְתֶּם

(Let the student master the principles and rules laid down above. It is not an exhaustive treatment but for the beginner it will be adequate.)

105. Vocabulary

1. אָכַל eat	4. יָדַע know	7. עָמַד stand
2. אָמַר say	5. יָשַׁב sit, dwell	8. שָׁלַח send
3. הָלַךְ walk, go	6. לָקַח take	9. שָׁמַע hear

Note. These verbs are irregular and there will be minor changes in the inflection, but it is essential that they be mastered at this time.

106. Exercises

Translate:

הִבְדַּלְתַּנִי, הִלְבִּישַׁנִי, הִמְלִיכוֹ, שְׁמָרַנִי, שְׁמֶרְךָ, בְּרָאָם, יְשַׁפְּטַנִי, אָזְכָּרְךָ, תִּלַּמְדֵם, יַלְבִּישֵׁם, אָמְרָם, לְבַקְּשַׁנִי, שְׁמָעֵנִי, שָׁמְרֵם, שְׁמָעֵם, לְהַבְדִּילְךָ, רְדָפֵיךָ:

He hath clothed me (Hif.). He consecrated thee (Hif.). I have made him king. She remembered it. He will visit me. Keep us (Imv.). He divided them.

LESSON XXV.

107. Translate the following sentences and parse the verbs:

וַיַּמְלִיכוּ אֹתוֹ עַל־יִשְׂרָאֵל: נָתַן אֱלֹהִים מְאֹרוֹת לְהַבְדִּיל בֵּין הַיּוֹם וּבֵין הַלָּיְלָה: לֹא יִכָּרֵת עוֹד כָּל־בָּשָׂר: לֹא יָכַלְתָּ לִסְפֹּר אֶת־הַכּוֹכָבִים: לֹא שָׁמַרְתָּ בְרִיתִי: לֹא שָׁמְרָה תּוֹרָתֶךָ: קָרַב וּשְׁמַע אֶת־כָּל־הַדְּבָרִים אֲשֶׁר אֲנֹכִי אֲדַבֵּר אֵלֶיךָ: זָכְרוּ אֶת־יוֹם הַשַּׁבָּת לְקַדְּשׁ אֹתוֹ: וַיִּשְׁמְעוּ אֶת־קוֹל יהוה מִתְהַלֵּךְ בַּגָּן:

NOTE. See vocabulary at end of book for words that have not been given.

108. VOCABULARY

1.	אֲדָמָה (f.)	ground	7.	לְמַעַן	in order that
2.	אַחַר	after	8.	מָאוֹר	luminary
3.	אַי	where	9.	עוֹד	again
4.	בַּיִת	house	10.	פֶּן	lest
5.	הַ	(interrogative)	11.	שׁוֹר	ox
6.	כִּי	for, because

109. EXERCISES

Ye did not keep my words. We sat by (עַל) the waters of the great rivers. Jehovah will judge this people. Keep thy tongue from evil. I am hidden from the face of my God. Judge me according to my righteousness.

LESSON XXVI.

110. Translate the following sentences and parse the verbs:

בְּרֵאשִׁית בָּרָא אֱלֹהִים אֵת הַשָּׁמַיִם וְאֵת הָאָרֶץ: וַיִּקְרָא אֱלֹהִים לָאוֹר יוֹם וְלַחֹשֶׁךְ קָרָא לָיְלָה: שִׁמְרוּ אֶת־לִבַּבְכֶם מִכָּל־רַע פֶּן־אָשְׁפֹּט אֶתְכֶם: קָרַב אֵלַי אַתָּה וּבָנֶיךָ לְמַעַן תִּגְדְּלוּ לְפָנַי: אָסַתֵּר כִּי יְבַקְּשׁוּ אֹתִי: מַה־תִּדַּבְּרָנָה לִי כִּי־לֹא תִתְנַדַּלְנָה לְפָנַי: יָפַקֹד עַל־בֵּית הַמֶּלֶךְ וְעַל־כָּל־אֲשֶׁר־לוֹ: וַיְלַחֵם בּוֹ דָּוִד וַיִּכְרֹת אֶת־רֹאשׁוֹ מֵעָלָיו וַיִּרְדֹּף אַחֲרֵי פְּלִשְׁתִּים: דִּבְּרוּ אֵלַי

2.	קֵץ	end	7.	שׁוֹפָר	trumpet
3.	קָצִיר	harvest	8.	תְּפִלָּה	prayer
4.	קָרוֹב	near	9.	תִּשְׁעָה	nine
5.	קֶרֶן (f.)	horn

112. Exercises

Thy hand is heavy upon me day and night. Why hast thou not been able to judge this people? They fought with us all that night, and God delivered us. He sent his sons from his face. Judge between him and me.

LESSON XXVII.

113. Translate and locate the verbs in the following sentences:

רָאָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת־הָאוֹר כִּי־טוֹב וַיַּבְדֵּל אֱלֹהִים בֵּין הָאוֹר וּבֵין הַחֹשֶׁךְ: וַיִּקְרָא יהוה אֶל־הָאָדָם: אָמַר הָאָדָם הָאִשָּׁה אֲשֶׁר נָתַתָּ עִמִּי הִיא נָתְנָה־לִּי מִן־הָעֵץ: אָמַר יהוה אֶל־קַיִן אֵי הֶבֶל אָחִיךָ: אָמַר לֹא יָדַעְתִּי הֲשֹׁמֵר אָחִי אָנֹכִי: קוֹל דְּמֵי אָחִיךָ צֹעֲקִים אֵלַי מִן־הָאֲדָמָה: הֵן גֵּרַשְׁתָּ אֹתִי הַיּוֹם מֵעַל פְּנֵי הָאֲדָמָה וּמִפָּנֶיךָ אֶסָּתֵר: וַיִּקְרָא אַבְרָם אֶת־שֵׁם־בְּנוֹ יִצְחָק: וַיְדַבֵּר אֱלֹהִים אֶת־כָּל־הַדְּבָרִים הָאֵלֶּה:

114. Vocabulary

1. דְּבַשׁ honey	4. חָמָס violence	7. יוֹמָם daily
2. הֵיכָל temple	5. חֵץ arrow	8. מִגְדָּל tower
3. חָלוֹם dream	6. חֶרְפָּה (f.) reproach	9. מִזְמוֹר psalm

115. Exercises

God saw all which he had created. Jehovah God sanctified this day and this place. Thou shalt divide between the good and the evil. What will God call the great luminary? Thou didst hear the voice of God from the heavens

LESSON XXVIII.

116. Translate and parse the verbs in the following sentences:

כַּבֵּד אֶת־אָבִיךָ וְאֶת־אִמֶּךָ לְמַעַן יַאֲרִיכוּ יָמֶיךָ עַל־הָאֲדָמָה
אֲשֶׁר־יהוה אֱלֹהֶיךָ נֹתֵן לָךְ: וַיִּקְרָא מֹשֶׁה אֶל־כָּל־יִשְׂרָאֵל
וַיֹּאמֶר אֲלֵהֶם שְׁמַע יִשְׂרָאֵל אֶת־הַמִּשְׁפָּטִים אֲשֶׁר אָנֹכִי דֹבֵר
בְּאָזְנֵיכֶם הַיּוֹם וּלְמַדְתֶּם אֹתָם וּשְׁמַרְתֶּם אֹתָם: יהוה אֱלֹהֵינוּ
כָּרַת עִמָּנוּ בְּרִית בְּחֹרֵב: פָּנִים בְּפָנִים דִּבֶּר יהוה עִמָּכֶם בָּהָר:

אֵלַי שָׁמַעְתִּי אֶת־קוֹל דִּבְרֵי הָעָם הַזֶּה אֲשֶׁר דִּבְּרוּ אֵלֶיךָ:

117. Vocabulary

1. אָהַב love	4. גָּרַשׁ drive out	7. מָצָא find
2. רָאָה see	5. יָצָא go out	8. עָרַךְ arrange (Hi. to value)
3. גָּאַל redeem	6. יָרַד go down	9. שָׁבַע swear

118. Exercises

1. He was not able to rule over the people. 2. Honor the Lord and thou shalt be honored. 3. Moses walked (Hith.) before me with a perfect heart. 4. God separated the light from the darkness. 5. I will destroy him from the face of the ground.

LESSON XXIX.

Weak or Irregular Verbs

The irregularity of verbs in Hebrew is not due to any anomalies in the afformatives or preformatives, for these are the same for all verbs. The verbs are neither arbitrary nor anomalous; most of them are absolutely regular, only the paradigm form of the regular verb is modified by the presence of one of the weak letters. The modifications, then, are caused by the peculiarities of one or more of the radicals. A careful study of these peculiarities will make these so-called irregular verbs perfectly intelligible.

119. It is convenient to have a system for designating the radicals, and for this purpose the old Jewish paradigm word, פָּעַל, is adopted. These letters, Pe, Ayin and Lamedh, are used in speaking of the radicals. פ (Pe) stands for the first radical, ע (Ayin) for the second, and ל (Lamedh) for the third. Thus a Pe Nun verb is one which has a Nun as its first radical, נָפַל. A Pe Yodh verb is one which has a Yodh as its first radical, יָטַב. An Ayin Waw verb is one whose middle radical is a Waw צָוָה. A Lamedh Aleph verb is one whose third radical is an Aleph, קָרָא. If a verb has more than one weak letter (א, ה, ת, ר, ו, י, נ) it is called after all the classes whose peculiarities it shares. יָדָה is a Pe Yodh and a Lamedh He verb. A verb like סָבַב whose second and third radicals are the same is called a double Ayin verb.

120. The peculiarities of verbs with gutturals (or laryngeals) are confined to the modifications of the vowels. The radicals remain the same throughout just as in the strong verb. For example the Piel which doubles the middle radical (קִטֵּל), will necessarily assume a special form when the middle radical is a guttural, as gutturals cannot be doubled. The form is determined by the laws affecting gutturals (see 16, Lesson V.) and is not some arbitrary thing to be laboriously committed to memory. קִטֵּל (Piel Perf.) בֵּרֵךְ instead of בֵּרֵךְ however, because the middle radical refuses the doubling and the short vowel in the open pretone must be heightened. So it is with the other types of the "irregular" verb, which are thoroughly regular to one who clearly understands the fundamental principles of the language.

In dealing with these verbs we shall take the regular verb as the standard, and call attention to the deviations of other verbs from it.

121. Vocabulary

1. כָּנָף wing
2. כִּסֵּא throne
3. מִצְוָה (f) command
4. עֵדָה congregation

5. צֶדֶק righteousness
6. צְדָקָה (f) righteousness
7. רֶכֶב chariot
8. שְׁמֹנָה eight
9. שֵׁשׁ six

122. Exercises

Designate the classes of the following verbs:

נתן, ברך צוה, אבל, שׁמע, לקח, סבב, קרא, ילד, בנה,
פקד, קלל, רעע, עמד, בער, נפל, אהב, יצר, שׁוב, בוא:

LESSON XXX.

The Pe Guttural Verb. עָטַל. (First Radical a guttural.) See Paradigm B.

Review carefully the rules for gutturals (16). Types: חָמַד desire, חָדַל cease, עָמַד stand.

123. Some Peculiarities

1. The Guttural prefers a compound šᵉwa under it instead of a simple šᵉwa as in strong verb.

יַקְטִיל but יַעֲטִיל, קִטַּלְתָּם but עֲטַלְתָּם. (Wherever the strong verb has a vocal šᵉwa under it the Pe Guttural verbs take a compound šᵉwa. This frequently occurs in places where the strong verb is pointed with a syllable divider.) This is usually ־ה but א prefers ־ה.

2. The Guttural refuses to be doubled (cf. Nifal).

יִקְטֹל but יִעְטֹל. (The ע will not take the dageš-forte and to compensate for it the vowel in the open syllable must be heightened, ◌ִ to ◌ֵ.)

3. The Guttural prefers an "A" class vowel before it.

a) In the Qal Imperfect (with o) the original a of the preformative is restored. יִקְטֹל but יַעֲטֹל.

b) In Nifal Perf. and Part., Hifil Perf. and Qal Impf. (with a) the preformative vowel (i) is deflected, under the influence of the following guttural, to ◌ֶ. הִקְטִיל but הֶעֱטִיל. נִקְטַל but נֶעֱטַל. יִקְטַל but יֵעֱטַל.

124. Notes

1. Two vocal šᵉwas never occur together. When compound šᵉwa precedes simple šᵉwa the compound šᵉwa gives way to the corresponding short vowel. (This happens before vowel additions.) יִקְטְלוּ but יַעֲטְלוּ and this becomes יַעַטְלוּ.

2. The combination of vowel and šᵉwa is as follows: ◌ְִ, ◌ְֵ, ◌ְַ and never ◌ְֶ or ◌ְָ.

3. Remember that the vowel immediately before a compound šᵉwa must have a secondary accent יַעֲטִיל, נֶעֱטַל.

125. Vocabulary

1. אָסַף gather	3. חָדַל cease	7. עָבַר pass over
2 הָפַךְ overturn	5. חָשַׁב think, impute	8 עָזַב abandon
3. הָרַג kill	6. עָבַד serve	9. עָזַר assist

126. Exercises

1. Examine closely the synopses, noting the variations from the strong verb. Write out a synopsis of the verb עָבַר.

2. Write without help a paradigm of the verb עָמַד in the Qal and Nifal. The Piel and Hifil of the verb עָבַד; and compare these with the paradigm given in the grammar.

3. Parse and translate the following forms:

4. Write in Hebrew the following sentences:

He caused them to eat bread. I will cause thee to stand. And he made to pass his sons in the fire. I will not leave you; for ye have served me. Make the people go over before thee, and they shall assist the man.

LESSON XXXI.

The Pe Aleph Verbs. (First Radical an א)

See Paradigm J.

127. Nearly all the verbs beginning with Aleph belong to the Pe Guttural group, and differ from the other verbs of that group chiefly in their preference for ֲ among the compound šᵉwas.

Five verbs beginning with א have certain peculiarities in the Qal. They are אָבַד perish, אָכַל eat, אָמַר say, אָבָה be willing, אָפָה bake. (אָחַז seize and אָסַף gather sometimes prefer this peculiar form).

The Qal Impf. has o for its first vowel and a for its second. יֹאמַר, יֹאכַל, יֹאבַד. This ־ in pause, sometimes, becomes ־. יֹאכֵל).

NOTES:

1. The א quiesces, resulting in the vowel ô, by the following process. יַאמַר becomes יָאמַר which in turn becomes יֹאמַר, by what is called dissimilation, intended to prevent two similar vowels from following one another in the same verb.

2. אָמַר in Impf. with Waw Consecutive has the form וַיֹּאמֶר due to the retracted accent.

3. The Inf. Const. has regularly ־ֶה. לֶאֱמֹר contracts to לֵאמֹר.

128. VOCABULARY

1.	אַף anger	4.	גָּמָל camel	7.	מוֹעֵד season
2.	בָּרוּךְ blessed	5.	הִנֵּה behold!	8.	מָשִׁיחַ anointed
3.	בְּרָכָה (f.) blessing	6.	מִזְבֵּחַ altar	9.	אָרוּר cursed

129. EXERCISES

וַיֹּאמְרוּ מַה־נֹּאמַר לָאִישׁ הַזֶּה: וַיֹּאמֶר יהוה אֶל־הָאָדָם מִכָּל־עֵץ הַגָּן אָכֹל תֹּאכֵל: אַל תֹּאמַר אֲנִי עָשִׂיתִי זֹאת כִּי הוּא עֲזָרֶךָ: וַתֹּאמֶר הָאִשָּׁה אֶל־הַנָּחָשׁ מִפְּרִי עֵץ הַגָּן נֹאכֵל וּמִפְּרִי הָעֵץ אֲשֶׁר בְּתוֹךְ הַגָּן אָמַר אֱלֹהִים לֹא תֹאכְלוּ: וַיֹּאמֶר הָאָדָם הָאִשָּׁה אֲשֶׁר נָתַתָּ עִמָּדִי הִיא נָתְנָה־לִּי מִן־הָעֵץ וָאֹכֵל:

It shall not be eaten in the city. And he called the people to eat and they ate. And Jehovah said unto the people, "Keep my words." We shall eat flesh in the morning. The wicked man shall perish.

LESSON XXXII.

Ayin Guttural Verbs
(The Middle Radical a Guttural)
(See Paradigm C.)

Typical verbs שָׁאַל ask שָׁחַט slay

130. Verbs whose second radical is a guttural exhibit the following peculiarities.

1. The guttural refuses to be doubled.

In the intensive stems (Piel, Pual, Hithpael) this peculiarity is exhibited.

Before א and ר the preceding vowel is heightened: ־ֶ to ־ַ, ־ִ to ־ֵ, ־ֻ to ־ֹ.

יְמָאֵן instead of יְמַאֵן (refuse).

Before ע, ה, ח, the preceding vowel usually remains short (doubled by implication). יְנַעֵר, נִחַם, מְהַר, יְנַחֵם.

2. The guttural prefers compound šᵉwa (usually ־ֲ). With the vowel terminations (־ָה, ־ִי, וּ), the middle guttural is pointed with a compound šᵉwa שָׁחֲטָה for שָׁחְטָה. שָׁחֲטוּ for שָׁחְטוּ.

Note. ר usually takes simple šᵉwa but may have compound šᵉwa בָּרֲכוּ.

3. The preference for the "A" class vowels.

Pathaḥ usually replaces ◌ִ in the Qal Impf. and Imv. It may replace ◌ֵ in the Piel Perf. נִחַם for נִחֵם. יִשְׁחַט for יִשְׁחֹט.

131. Vocabulary

1. פָּרַד separate, divide
2. מאן (Pi.) refuse
3. שָׂחַק laugh
4. מָהַר hasten
5. כָּעַס provoke
6. צָעַק cry out
7. שָׁחַט slaughter
8. בָּעַר consume

132. Exercises

1. Write in full:

a. The Piel of גרשׁ

b. The Pual of בחר

c. The Qal of שחט

2. Translate and parse the verbs in the following sentences:

וַיְבָרֶךְ אֱלֹהִים אֶת־נֹחַ: אֶת־אֲשֶׁר תְּבָרֵךְ הוּא מְבֹרָךְ: מַהֵר הַמָּלֵט: וְנַעַר שְׁמוּאֵל מְשָׁרֵת אֶת־יהוה לִפְנֵי עֵלִי: נָחֲמוּ נָחֲמוּ אֶת־עַמִּי יֹאמַר יהוה: וּבֵרַכְתִּי כָל־מְבָרְכֶיךָ:

3. Translate:

The father refused to bless the son. Have mercy on us and bless our land. They took gold from all whom they chose. The fire will consume, the sword will slaughter. I will bless thee and keep thee.

LESSON XXXIII.

Lamedh Guttural Verbs
(The Final Radical a Guttural)
(See Paradigm D.)

Typical verbs שָׁלַח, שָׁמַע.

This class includes verbs ending in ח, ע, and ה. Final א and ה are quiescent, and verbs ending in them form distinct classes of weak verbs. Verbs ending in ר usually follow the regular verb.

133. The peculiarities of Lamedh Guttural verbs are:

1. Every final guttural must have an "A" sound before it.

2. Unchangeable long vowels naturally are retained, taking pathah furtive between them and the guttural. שָׁלוּחַ (Pass. Part.) יַשְׁלִיחַ.

3. The forms with afformatives are generally unaffected. שָׁלְחָה, יִשְׁלְחוּ.

4. In the Perfects the 2 sg. f. forms have a helping vowel ֲ under the guttural, שָׁלַחַתְּ.

134. Vocabulary

1. זָבַח sacrifice
2. מָשַׁח anoint
3. בָּקַע cleave, split
4. פָּשַׁע transgress, rebel
5. שָׁמַע hear
6. תָּקַע strike

135. Exercises

1. Write out the 3rd sg. masc. Perfect and Imperfect of שלח in all formations.

2. Write the Participles of שמע in all formations.

3. Write the Hifil Perf. and Qal Imperfect of בטח.

4 Translate and parse the verbs in the following sentences:

בְּטַח אֶל־יהוה בְּכָל־לִבֶּךָ: לֹא תִשָּׁכַח לְפָנָיו: שְׁמַע בְּקוֹלִי: אָמַר אַבְרָם אֵלָיו אַשְׁבִּיעֲךָ בַּיהוה וַיִּשָּׁבַע לוֹ: וָאֶשְׁמַע קוֹל אֹמֵר אֶת־מִי אֶשְׁלַח וָאֹמַר הִנֵּנִי שְׁלָחֵנִי: טוֹב לְבְטֹחַ בַּיהוה מִבְּטֹחַ בָּאָדָם: הִנֵּה אָנֹכִי שֹׁלֵחַ מַלְאָךְ לְפָנֶיךָ לִשְׁמָרְךָ בַּדָּרֶךְ הִשָּׁמֵר מִפָּנָיו וּשְׁמַע בְּקוֹלוֹ: וַיִּשָּׁבַע לֵאמֹר אִם אֶשְׁכַּח אֶת־הַבְּרִית אֲשֶׁר כָּרַתִּי אִתְּכֶם:

Translate:

Swear to me that thou wilt send the lad. The prophet said, "Send me," and he sent him. Anoint him, for this is he. They heard the words which he spoke and trusted in him.

LESSON XXXIV.

136. Translate and explain all forms in the following selection from I Samuel 12:1-5.

וַיֹּאמֶר שְׁמוּאֵל אֶל־כָּל־יִשְׂרָאֵל הִנֵּה שָׁמַעְתִּי בְקֹלְכֶם לְכֹל־אֲשֶׁר־אֲמַרְתֶּם לִי וָאַמְלִיךְ עֲלֵיכֶם מֶלֶךְ: וְעַתָּה הִנֵּה־הַמֶּלֶךְ מִתְהַלֵּךְ לִפְנֵיכֶם וַאֲנִי זָקַנְתִּי וּבָנַי הִנָּם אִתְּכֶם וַאֲנִי הִתְהַלַּכְתִּי לִפְנֵיכֶם מִנְּעָרַי עַד־הַיּוֹם הַזֶּה: הִנְנִי עֲנוּ בִי נֶגֶד יהוה אֶת־שׁוֹר מִי לָקָחְתִּי וַחֲמוֹר מִי לָקָחְתִּי וְאֶת־מִי עָשַׁקְתִּי אֶת־מִי רַצּוֹתִי וּמִיַּד־מִי לָקַחְתִּי כֹּפֶר וְאָשִׁיב לָכֶם: וַיֹּאמְרוּ לֹא עָשַׁקְתָּנוּ וְלֹא

לָקַחְתָּ מִיַּד־אִישׁ מְאוּמָה: וַיֹּאמֶר אֲלֵיהֶם עַד יהוה בָּכֶם הַיּוֹם הַזֶּה כִּי לֹא מְצָאתֶם בְּיָדִי מְאוּמָה וַיֹּאמְרוּ עֵד:

137. Vocabulary

1. בְּהֵמָה (f.) cattle, beast
2. חָכְמָה (f.) wisdom
3. יְשׁוּעָה (f.) salvation
4. כָּנָף (f.) wing
5. מִנְחָה (f.) offering
6. נַחֲלָה (f.) inheritance
7. עַיִן (f.) eye
8. עֵצָה (f.) counsel
9. תֵּבָה (f.) ark

138. Exercises

1. Review thoroughly the three guttural verbs.

2. Write out a synopsis of each verb, using עָמַד, גָּאַל and בָּטַח.

3. Parse the following forms:

יִזְעַק, תִּשְׁרַת, שְׁמַע, נִשְׁבָּע, יְשַׁלַּח, עֲבַדְתֶּם, נַיַּעֲבִידוּ, מִשְׁתַּלַּחַ, נַיַּעֲבֵד, שִׁחֵת, בֵּרַכְךָ, וְנִנַּחֵם:

4. Translate:

He will send the man to destroy the city. Choose ye this day whom ye will serve. They served him day and night. The fire consumed the sons and the daughters.

LESSON XXXV.

Pe Nun Verbs (First Radical a Nun)

See Paradigm E.

Typical verbs נָגַשׁ approach, נָפַל fall.

139. The letter נ in Hebrew shows the same kind of feebleness that it has in other languages. When it is supported only by a šᵉwa the sound is apt to be lost in that of the consonant after it. יִגַּשׁ=יִנְגַּשׁ, יִפֹּל=יִנְפַּל, הַפִּיל=הַנְפִּיל.

It is so assimilated when, having under it a syllable-divider, it closes a preformative syllable. (Qal Imp., Nifal Perf., and Part. and throughout the Hifil and Hofal).

Notes: 1. In the Qal Imv. the initial נ is often dropped in verbs which take ־ in the Impf. נָגַשׁ becomes גַּשׁ. It is retained in verbs with Impf. in ־, נָפַל.

2. In Qal Inf. Construct of verbs which have ־ as the vowel of the Impf., it is usually dropped and by a sort of compensation, ת is added, making a segholate form, נָגַשׁ=גַּשׁ=גַּשְׁתְּ=גֶּשֶׁת.

3. The preposition לְ before this Infinitive form is always written לְ, לְגֶשֶׁת, לְלֶכֶת.

4. The verb לָקַח take follows the analogy of the Pe-Nun verbs in Qal and Hofal. יִלַּקַח becomes יִקַּח but נִלְקַח remains.

5. In the verb נָתַן give the Nun at the end, as well as the Nun at the beginning, may be assimilated. נָתַתִּי for נָתַנְתִּי. נָתַנּוּ for נָתַנְנוּ.

In the Impf. and Imperative Qal it takes ־ in the final syllable. יִתֵּן he will give. תֵּן give.

140. Vocabulary

1. נבט (Pi. & Hi.) look
2. נגד (Hi. & Ho.) make known
3. נָגַע touch
4. נָגַשׁ approach
5. נָחַל inherit
6. נָטַע plant
7. נָסַע depart
8. נָפַל fall
9. נָצַל deliver, snatch

141. Exercises

1. Write a synopsis of Qal, Nifal, and Hifil stems, using נָגַשׁ approach.

2. Parse and explain the following forms:

יִפֹּל, יַפִּיל, תַּגִּישׁ, הִגִּיד, הַגֵּדְתָּ, הָגֵד, נְפֹל, גַּשׁ, לָלֶכֶת, יִקַּח, קַח, נָתַנּוּ, הַצִּילַנִי:

3. Translate and parse the verbs in the following sentences:

אַל תַּגִּידוּ אֶת־הַדָּבָר לוֹ: וַיִּפֹּל אַבְרָם עַל־פָּנָי וַיִּטַּע יהוה גַּן בְּעֵדֶן: וַיִּקַּח לֶחֶם וַיִּתֵּן אֶל־הַכֹּהֵן: הָאֱלֹהִים אֲשֶׁר הִצִּילַנִי מִיַּד הָאֲרִי הוּא יַצִּילַנִי מִיָּדוֹ: נִגְּשָׁתָם אֶל־הָעִיר: בַּת־מִי אַתְּ הַגִּידִי־נָא לִי:

4. Translate: And I took bread and I gave it to him to eat. Make known, I pray, thy name. Hear me and deliver me. And he took trees and planted them in the garden. Who told thee this?

LESSON XXXVI.

(SEE PARADIGM F.)

Typical verbs מָצָא find, מָלֵא be full.

142. At the beginning of a syllable א is always a guttural; at the end of a syllable it is always quiescent (silent). Where it is quiescent, the preceding vowel is always long. מָצָא he found, יִמְצָא he will find, מָלֵא (stative) he is full (of).

1. Thus for a synopsis of this verb it is only necessary to write the strong verb, substitute an א for the ל of קָטַל and heighten the vowel where it is short (except in Qal Impf. and Imv., where we have יִקְטָא and קָטָא, which are built on the stem יִקְטַל and קָטַל).

2. In the inflection

a) Before the consonant additions the same rule applies. מְצָאתָ. קְטָאתָ.

b) Before the vowel additions (ָה—, ִי—, וֹ) the Aleph is a consonant (guttural) and is treated like a strong consonant, מְצָאָה.

NOTES:

1. In the Perfects the vowel before א is ָ in the Qal (active) and ֶ in all the other Perfects.

2. In the Imperfects and Imperatives before א with the termination נָה the vowel is ֵ (é) (heightened from ֶ).

3. The quiescent א very often falls out in the writing. מָצָתִי for מָצָאתִי.

143. Vocabulary

1. חָטָא sin	4. נָשָׂא lift up	7. קָרָא meet, call
2. חבא hide	5. נבא prophesy	8. רָפָא heal
3. יָרֵא be afraid	6. צָמֵא be thirsty	9. שָׂנֵא hate

144. Exercises

1. Write a synopsis of the Lamedh Aleph verb using מָצָא.

2. Parse and explain forms:

קָרָאתִי, רְפָאתֶם, קְרֹא, קרֵא, נִקְרָא, נִקְרֵא, אֶחֱטָא, מִלְאוּ, תְּמַלֵּאנָה, וַיִּבְרָא:

3. Translate and parse verbs in following sentences:

חָטָאתִי לְפָנֶיךָ: אִם תִּקְרָא לִי וְשִׁמַעְתִּיךָ: וּמִלֵּאתִי אֶת־הַבַּיִת הַזֶּה כָּבוֹד: וַיִּקְרָא אֱלֹהִים לָאוֹר יוֹם וְלַחֹשֶׁךְ קָרָא לַיְלָה: יָצָאתִי לִקְרָאתֶךָ וָאֶמְצָאֲךָ: וַיִּמָּלֵא הַבַּיִת עָשָׁן: לֵב טָהוֹר בְּרָא לִי אֱלֹהִים:

4. Translate: I have sinned against heaven and before thee. Jehovah will hear when thou criest unto him. Thou hast filled this house with glory. Do not hate thy brother but love him. I called upon the Lord and he healed me.

LESSON XXXVII.

Lamedh He (Lamedh Yodh or Waw) ל״ה

(See Paradigm G.)

Typical verbs גָּלָה, כָּסָה.

145. This important group of verbs has for its third radical Yodh or Waw. When either י or ו would be final it is dropped, and ה is added to protect the preceding vowel. The ה is not a genuine letter of the root, but a mere vowel sign. (When the ה is truly consonantal, it takes mappiq and the verb belongs to the Lamedh Guttural class. גָּבַהּ to be high, תָּמַהּ to wonder).

1. In the synopsis of this verb (or in all forms without afformatives) the letter ה appears as the final letter except in the Qal passive Participle and the Construct Infinitives.

146. The following table gives the respective endings.

In all Perfs.	ָה	הִקְטָה, קִטָּה, נִקְטָה, קָטָה.
In all Impfs.	ֶה	יִקְטֶה, יִקְטָה, יִקָּטֶה, יִקְטָה.
In all Imvs.	ֵה	הַקְטֵה, הָקְטֵה, קִטֵּה, קְטֵה.
In all Inv. A.	The usual vowels of the strong verb קְטֹה, etc.
In all Inf. C.	וֹת	הַקְטוֹת, הָקְטֹת, קִטּוֹת, etc.
In all Participles	ֶה	מְקַטֶּה, נִקְטֶה, קֹטֶה, etc.

Substitute these vowels for the vowel of the last syllable of the strong verb and the synopsis is complete.

2. In the inflection, when afformatives are added, the following rules apply:

a) Before consonant afformatives the י is preserved as the third radical and unites with the preceding vowel, forming a diphthong. This is generally ִי in the active Perfects, and ִי in the passive Perfects. Before נָה in the Impf. and Imperative it is ֶי. קְטָנָה, תִּקְטֶינָה, תִּקְטֶינָה, הִקְטִינָה, קִטַּיְתָ, קְטַיְתָ.

b) Before vowel afformatives (and before suffixes) the י with its vowel is lost.

קָטְיוּ for קָטוּ
קַטְיוּ for קַטוּ
יִקְטְיוּ for יִקְטוּ

NOTES:

1. The Perf. 3 f. sg. of all stems has the old feminine ending ־ַת to which the regular feminine ending ־ָה is added.

קָטְתָה instead of קָטָה which would be identical with the Perf. 3 mas. sg.

2. In the Jussive, and also with Waw Consecutive, the final ־ָה is dropped: the shortened form of the verb is called "Apocopated" (cut off).

147. VOCABULARY

1. בָּכָה weep
2. בָּנָה build
3. גָּלָה reveal
4. יָדָה thank
5. כָּלָה complete
6. כָּסָה conceal
7. פָּדָה redeem
8. צוה command (Pi.)
9. נָטָה stretch out
10. שָׁתָה & שָׁקָה drink

148. EXERCISES

1. Write a synopsis of the verb using גָּלָה

2. Parse:

בָּנְתָה, כַּלּוֹת, מְכַלֶּה, צִוֹּה, בְּנוֹת, בָּנִיתָ, כִּלָּה, בָּכֹה, נִגְלֹה, צִוֵּיתִי, כִּסִּיתִי, כִּלְתָה, הִשְׁקָתָה, אָבְנָה:

3. Translate and parse verbs:

בָּנִיתִי בַיִת לָךְ: וַיִּבֶן שָׁם מִזְבֵּחַ לַיהוה: רְאוּ צִוֵּיתִי אֶתְכֶם: תְּנוּ לָנוּ מַיִם וְנִשְׁתֶּה: אַתָּה שָׁתִיתָ: כַּאֲשֶׁר יהוה צִוָּה אֹתָם

כֵּן עָשׂוּ: וַיִּבֶן הָאִישׁ אֶת־הַבַּיִת וַיְכַלֵּהוּ: עָשִׂיתִי בְכָל־אֲשֶׁר צִוִּיתָנוּ: נִבְנָה לָנוּ עִיר וּמִגְדָּל וְרֹאשׁוֹ בַשָּׁמַיִם:

4. Translate: The heads of the mountains were covered. All that Moses commanded us, have we done. The law was revealed to the prophet. I will do all that thou shalt command.

LESSON XXXVIII.

Double Ayin Verbs (ע"ע).

Second and Third Radical the Same

(See Paradigm H.)

Typical verbs סָבַב surround, קָלַל be light.

149. The weakness of these verbs consists in the fact that the second and third radicals, being identical, are in many cases written only as one letter סָבַב becomes סַב. קָלַל becomes קַל. Where this occurs, the second radical must bear dageš forte when it can; i. e., before affomatives, קַלּוּ.

1. Write as the strong verb (קָטַט) and cancel thus קָטַט = קַט, except in the intensive stems and in the Qal Inf. Abs. and Participles.

יָקַטַּט (Nif) = יָקַט but קוֹטַט (uncontracted).

2. The stem vowel, which, after contraction, stands with the first radical instead of the second, is the same as that of the corresponding form of the strong verb except in Nif. Impf. and Imv. and in Hif. Perf., Impf., Inf. Const. and Ptc. In the Nif. the ground form is retained, while in the Hif. the vowel of the ground form is regularly heightened and not anomalously lengthened as in the strong verb.

3. The vowel of the preformative, now in an open syllable before the tone, is heightened. ־ to ־ in Qal and Nif., ־ to ־ in Hif. Perf. and Ptc. נָקְטַט = נָקַט. הִקְטִט = הִקַט.

4. Before consonantal afformatives a long helping vowel is inserted to insure pronunciation of the full letter of the stem. In all the Perfects it is וֹ and before נָה in the Imperfects and Imperatives it is ־ֶי. תְּצַלֶּינָה, סַבֵּוֹתָ.

5. The regular Intensive stems Piel, Pual and Hithpael, are found quite often (always uncontracted). הְלֵל praise. Another form of Intensive, also much in use is the Poel, סֹבֵב to encompass. More rare is the Pilpel, גִּלְגֵּל from גָּלַל to roll.

NOTES:

1. Contraction does not take place in the Participles and Infinitives Absolute. The full forms may also be found in the Perfect with vowel afformatives.

2. The inserted vowels וֹ and ־ֶי are always accented except before תֶּם and תֶּן.

3. An Aramaic form of the Qal Imperfect, made by doubling the first radical, in compensation for the loss of the third radical, is quite common.

יְקַב to curse, יְקֹד to bow down, יְדֹם to be silent.

150. VOCABULARY

1. גָּלַל roll
2. מָדַד measure
3. סָבַב surround
4. פָּלַל pray (Pi.)

5. קָלַל be light
6. רָנַן sing; cry aloud
7. אָרַר curse
8. הָלַל praise
9. חָלַל begin, profane
10. חָנַן be gracious

151. Exercises

1. Write a synopsis of this verb in Qal, Nifal and Hifil using גָּלַל to roll.

2. Parse:

קַלּוּ, גֹּל, וְנָקַל, יִמַּד, אָסַבָּה, נָטַב, גְּלֵינָה, יִמַּדּוּ, הֵחֵל, יָחֵלּוּ, וַיָּחֶל, הִסַּבְּי:

3. Translate and parse the verbs:

גָּלוּ אֶת־הָאֶבֶן שָׁמָּה: וַיָּסַבּוּ אֶת־הָעִיר: מַדּוֹתִי אֶת־הָעִיר: וַיָּסָב יִשְׂרָאֵל אֶת־הָאָרֶץ: קַלּוּ הַמַּיִם מֵעַל הָאָרֶץ: גָּדוֹל יהוה וּמְהֻלָּל מְאֹד:

4. Translate: They surrounded the city in the night. I will curse them that curse thee. Roll thy way upon Jehovah and trust in him. Bless them that curse you, bless and curse not. They began to call on the name of Jehovah.

LESSON XXXIX.

Reading Lesson. I Sam. 16:1-5

In translating these verses care should be taken to get the exact meaning of the word and the shades of meaning expressed in tense, number, formation, etc. Let the student make up his mind to do honest work. Use a lexicon rather than the English translation. It is possible to get a smattering of Hebrew by riding an English translation but a mastery of the language does not come that way.

152. Make a literal translation of the following and explain each word:

וַיֹּאמֶר יהוה אֶל־שְׁמוּאֵל עַד־מָתַי אַתָּה מִתְאַבֵּל אֶל־שָׁאוּל
וַאֲנִי מְאַסְתִּיו מִמְּלֹךְ עַל־יִשְׂרָאֵל מַלֵּא קַרְנְךָ שֶׁמֶן וְלֵךְ אֶשְׁלָחֲךָ
אֶל־יִשַׁי בֵּית־הַלַּחְמִי כִּי רָאִיתִי בְבָנָיו לִי מֶלֶךְ: וַיֹּאמֶר שְׁמוּאֵל
אֵיךְ אֵלֵךְ וְשָׁמַע שָׁאוּל וַהֲרָגָנִי: וַיֹּאמֶר יהוה עֶגְלַת בָּקָר תִּקַּח
בְּיָדֶךָ וְאָמַרְתָּ לִזְבֹּחַ לַיהוה בָּאתִי וְקָרָאתָ לְיִשַׁי בַּזֶּבַח וְאָנֹכִי
אוֹדִיעֲךָ אֵת אֲשֶׁר־תַּעֲשֶׂה וּמָשַׁחְתָּ לִי אֵת אֲשֶׁר־אֹמַר אֵלֶיךָ:
וַיַּעַשׂ שְׁמוּאֵל אֵת אֲשֶׁר דִּבֶּר יהוה וַיָּבֹא בֵּית לָחֶם וַיֶּחֶרְדוּ
זִקְנֵי הָעִיר לִקְרָאתוֹ וַיֹּאמֶר שָׁלוֹם בּוֹאֶךָ: וַיֹּאמֶר שָׁלוֹם לִזְבֹּחַ
לַיהוה בָּאתִי הִתְקַדְּשׁוּ וּבָאתֶם אִתִּי בַּזֶּבַח וַיְקַדֵּשׁ אֶת־יִשַׁי
וְאֶת־בָּנָיו וַיִּקְרָא לָהֶם לַזָּבַח:

153. Notes

v. 1—וְלֵךְ Qal Imperative from הָלַךְ to walk with Waw. בֵּית־הַלַּחְמִי The Bethlehemite.

v. 2—בָּאתִי Qal Perf. 1 per. sing. from בּוֹא go in or come in.

v. 3—אוֹדִיעֲךָ Hifil Impf. from יָדַע to know. Hif. to make known.

v. 4—בֵּית־לָחֶם Bethlehem.

v. 5—אִתִּי Prep. אֵת with. First per. pronom. suffix, with me.

154. Vocabulary

1. בּוֹא go in	4. קוּם rise, stand	7. שׁוּב turn
2. מוּת die	5. רוּץ run	8. שָׁמֵם be desolate
3. עוּר awake	6. שִׁיר sing	9. רָבַב be many

155. Exercises

1. Review the Lamedh Aleph, Lamedh He, and Double Ayin verbs.

2. Parse:

וַיֹּאמֶר, מִתְאַבֵּל, מְאַסְתִּיו, מִמְלֹךְ, מַלֵּא, וְלֵךְ, אֶשְׁלֶחֲךָ, רָאִיתִי, אֵלֵךְ, וְשָׁמַע, וַהֲרָגָנִי, תִּקַּח, וְאָמַרְתָּ, לִזְבֹּחַ, וְקָרָאתָ, בַּזָּבַח, תַּעֲשֶׂה, וּמָשַׁחְתָּ, אֹמַר, וַיַּעַשׂ, דִּבֶּר, לִקְרָאתוֹ, הִתְקַדְּשׁוּ וַיְקַדֵּשׁ, וַיִּקְרָא:

3. Translate: She shall bear a son and thou shalt call his name Moses. God caused Samuel to anoint the youth. And they rolled a great stone to the door. I have found the law and the book. He said, fill the vessels, and she filled them.

LESSON XL.

Ayin Waw (Middle Vowel) Verbs
(See Paradigm I.)

Typical verbs קוּם to rise, בּוֹשׁ to be ashamed, בִּין to discern

156. In these verbs the three root letters do not appear in the Perf. Qal: hence they are usually cited in the Inf. Constr. Qal. ע"ו verbs are more common than ע"י but their conjugation is identical, except in the Qal Impf., Imv. and Infin.

1. Medial Waw never appears as a consonant. It either falls out or unites with the vowel of the form. קָוַל = קָל, קְוֻל = קוּל, נָקְוַם = נָקָם.

2. The vowel of the preformative, which, after the contraction, stands in an open syllable before the tone, is generally heightened. ־ to ־ in Hifil Perf. and Ptc., (ו in Hofal.) and ־ to ־ elsewhere. יָקוּל, יָקִיל, מֵקִיל, הוּקַל, הֻקִיל.

3. Before vowel afformatives the stem vowel, instead of being volatilized, as in strong verb, is retained and accented, יָמֻלוּ, נָפֻוצוּ, יָבֵאוּ.

4. Before consonantal afformatives a separating vowel (ו in Perf. and ־ֻ in Impf.) is found in Nif. and Hif. Perfs. and Qal Impf. The Qal Perf. shortens ā to ă. קַמְתִּי instead of קָמָתִי.

Notes:

1. In verbs ע"ו which are also ל"ה the middle root letter retains its consonantal character (צוה to command).

These verbs do not fall under the rules given above.

2. The Qal Impf. of ע״י verbs is identical in form with the Hifil Impf. יָשִׂים.

3. The verb בּוֹא come in keeps וֹ where the other verbs have וּ but otherwise is conjugated like them. Impf. יָבוֹא.

4. The Piel is rare in this verb. Instead of it we usually have either a Polel (קוֹמֵם) or a Pilpel (כִּלְכֵּל).

5. When the separating vowel וֹ, in the Nifal, is accented, the וֹ of the stem is changed to וּ for the sake of euphony.

157. Vocabulary

1. בּוֹשׁ be ashamed
2. חוּל be in pain
3. טוֹב be good
4. כּוֹן prepare
5. סוּר turn aside
6. פּוּץ scatter
7. רוּם be high
8. שׁוּב turn
9. בִּין perceive
10. שִׂים put, place

158. Exercises

Parse and explain the forms:

יָשׁוּב, יָשֻׁבוּ, תְּשׁוּבֶינָה, הֵרֵימָה, הָרִימוֹתָ, יָרִים, בּוֹשׁ, בּוֹשָׁה, נָבוֹן, יָבִין, מְרִימוֹת, אָשׁוּב, בִּינוּ, יָבֵינוּ, הָסֵר:

Translate:

He arose and returned to the city. I will prepare the way for you. They were ashamed and hid themselves. They shall flee and be ashamed. Praise the Lord, exalt (רוּם) his name.

LESSON XLI.

Pe Yodh and Pe Waw Verbs (פ"י and פ"ו)

(See Paradigm K.)

Typical verbs יָדַע know, יָלַד bring forth, יָטַב be good

159.

1. These verbs originally began with a ו but the Waw when it would be initial, as in Qal, Piel, and Pual, usually passes over into a י. The Yodh when initial is retained.

2. In the Hifil the Waw reappears to give הוֹשִׁיב. יַוְשִׁיב (Impf.) becomes יוֹשִׁיב.

This is also true in the Nifal Perf. נוְשַׁב = נוֹשַׁב.

3. In the Hofal the Waw is retained and unites with the ־ giving הוּשַׁב (הָוְשַׁב).

4. In the Nifal Impf. the Waw is treated as a consonant. יִוָּלֵד (יִנָּקְטֵל).

Note. The Hithpael sometimes retains the Waw as a consonant. הִתְוַדַּע to make oneself known.

5. In the Qal Impf. and Imv. the Waw may be retained or rejected.

(a) In some verbs (יָדַע, יָלַד, יָרַד, יָשַׁב, יָצָא, וָלַךְ), the initial ו or י is rejected and the vowel of the preformative is ־ and the ultimate vowel is also ־. (ă before gutturals יֵדַע) יֵצֵא, צֵא (Imv).

The Infinitive Construct takes on the feminine ending ת making a segholate form יֶלֶדֶת.

(b) In the verbs which retain the radical ו the Impf. has for its stem vowel ă while the ו, changed to י, unites with the vowel (ĭ) of the preformative giving î. יִירַשׁ.

160. Notes

1. The verb הָלַךְ to go, is treated as one of these verbs except in the Qal Perf., Ptc. and Inf. Abs., and in the Hithpael. The Inf. Const. is לֶכֶת.

2. The preposition ל with the Inf. Const. is written לָ. לָשֶׁבֶת.

3. יָכֹל to be able is irregular. The only Impf. used is יוּכַל, which is a Hofal in form.

Verbs originally פ"י.

(a) In the Hifil Perf. and Impf. the Yodh of the stem unites with the vowel of the preformative (ă) giving ê. יֵינִיק = יֵנִיק, הֵינִיק = הֵנִיק.

(b) In the Qal Impf. יִינַק is formed quite regularly. יִינַק = יִנַק.

161. Vocabulary

1. יָבֵשׁ be dry
2. יָטַב be good
3. יָסַף add
4. יָלַד bring forth
5. הָלַךְ walk, go
6. יָסַר chastise
7. יָצַר form
8. יָרַשׁ possess
9. יָצַק pour out
10. יָתַר be left over
11. יָשַׁע deliver
12. יָשַׁר be straight

162. Exercises

1. Parse:

יֵיטַב, הֵיטִיב, וַתִּיבַשׁ, יֵשֵׁב, יֵדַע, וַיִּוָּלֵד, הוֹרִיד, הוֹרַדְתָּ, יוֹרִיד, יוּרַד, שֵׁב, דַּע, לֻלֶּכֶת, יוֹדִיעַ, יוּכַל, וַתֵּרֶד, יְכֻלֶּת, יְבַשֶּׁת, הִתְוַדַּע:

2. Translate: Who can dwell in this place? They went down to Egypt and dwelt there. Make me to know thy laws. He caused every man to go out of the house. I will dwell with the king in the city.

LESSON XLII.

The Numerals

The Hebrew numerals consist of two classes, Cardinals and Ordinals.

163. Cardinals. The cardinal numbers, from one to ten inclusive, have each an appropriate form for the masculine and feminine genders, as well as for the absolute and construct states.

A singular peculiarity presents itself in these numbers in that, from three to ten inclusive, those with feminine terminations are joined to masculine nouns, and masculine forms to feminine nouns; as שִׁשָּׁה יְלָדִים six boys; שֵׁשׁ יְלָדוֹת six girls.

	With the Masculine		With the Feminine.
	Absolute.	Construct.	Absolute.	Construct.
1	אֶחָד	אַחַד	אַחַת	אַחַת
2	שְׁנַיִם	שְׁנֵי	שְׁתַּיִם	שְׁתֵּי
3	שְׁלֹשָׁה	שְׁלֹשֶׁת	שָׁלֹשׁ	שְׁלֹשׁ
4	אַרְבָּעָה	אַרְבַּעַת	אַרְבַּע	אַרְבַּע
5	חֲמִשָּׁה	חֲמֵשֶׁת	חָמֵשׁ	חֲמֵשׁ
6	שִׁשָּׁה	שֵׁשֶׁת	שֵׁשׁ	שֵׁשׁ
7	שִׁבְעָה	שִׁבְעַת	שֶׁבַע	שְׁבַע
8	שְׁמֹנָה	שְׁמֹנַת	שְׁמֹנֶה
9	תִּשְׁעָה	תִּשְׁעַת	תֵּשַׁע	תְּשַׁע
10	עֲשָׂרָה	עֲשֶׂרֶת	עֶשֶׂר	עֲשַׂר

The numbers from eleven to nineteen inclusive, are formed by placing after respective units the number עֶשֶׂר ten, before masculine, and עֶשְׂרֵה before feminine nouns. They have no construct state, being always construed adverbially.

	With the Masc.	With the Fem.
11	אַחַד / עַשְׁתֵּי עֶשֶׂר	אַחַת / עַשְׁתֵּי עֶשְׂרֵה
12	שְׁנֵים / שְׁנֵי עֶשֶׂר	שְׁתֵּים / שְׁתֵּי עֶשְׂרֵה
13	שְׁלֹשָׁה עָשָׂר	שְׁלֹשׁ עֶשְׂרֵה
14	אַרְבָּעָה עָשָׂר	אַרְבַּע עֶשְׂרֵה

21	אֶחָד וְעֶשְׂרִים	one and twenty, etc.
31	אֶחָד וּשְׁלֹשִׁים	one and thirty, etc.
41	אֶחָד וְאַרְבָּעִים	one and forty, etc.
51	אֶחָד וַחֲמִשִּׁים	one and fifty, etc.
61	אֶחָד וְשִׁשִּׁים	one and sixty, etc.

The numerals thirty to ninety are formed by adding the masc. pl. ending ־ִים to the units, but twenty (עֶשְׂרִים) is the plural of עֶשֶׂר ten.

164. Ordinals. The ordinal numbers from one to ten are adjectives, and construed in the ordinary way. Beyond ten the cardinal numbers are used as ordinals. The ordinals are these.

First	רִאשׁוֹן	Sixth	שִׁשִּׁי
Second	שֵׁנִי	Seventh	שְׁבִיעִי
Third	שְׁלִישִׁי	Eighth	שְׁמִינִי
Fourth	רְבִיעִי	Ninth	תְּשִׁיעִי
Fifth	חֲמִשִּׁי or חֲמִישִׁי	Tenth	עֲשִׂירִי
